Tradition

Into the blue of a deep Kansas sky rise the famous twin towers of Wyandotte High School. The stately magnitude, strength and beauty of the towers provide a lasting impression for all who behold them. They are inspiring, unique, intricate in design and artistic, employing a symmetrical Indian motif.

However, their beauty is not limited to their exterior surface, but continues on into their meaning. The west tower represents knowledge, because the West was a land of pioneers, eager and ambitious to achieve and acquire. They were also true pioneers in arts and sciences as well as many newer branches of learning. On the other hand, the east tower represents character because the East suggests maturity, stability of character, refinement, culture and inspiration.

But to us, the students of Wyandotte High School, their meaning expands far beyond that of character and knowledge. For within these towers are held all the secrets, the joys, and disappointments experienced and cherished by each class. Moreover, they symbolize Wyandotte's accomplishments in education, leadership and sportsmanship. But, above all, these towers, beloved by all who have passed within their midst, contain all the sacred traditions that we the students hold dear. The enchanted Homecoming dance, the pride and sadness in singing "Wyandotte Forever" and the achievement of graduation are traditions that will continue to live in the hearts of those who uphold them. For Wyandotte is a part of us and we of it. Her moods of happiness and sorrow will forever be remembered. Let us, therefore, take one last look, and behold...the Towers of Tradition.

Tradition at Christmas

Wood crackling in a fireplace and a radiant tree surrounded by colorful packages created a traditional holiday mood. This was Social Hall in one of its many transformations throughout the year. At Christmas, its lovely decor spread yuletide greetings and cheer to all who beheld it. Old traditions unfolded as Wyandotte celebrated the holiday season. The gaiety and splendor of the annual Christmas Formal provided a lasting memory for all who attended. The strains of "O Tannenbaum" and other Christmas Carols could be heard drifting through the halls. The breaking of the Pinata at the Spanish Christmas Fiesta, the Salvation Army Play and the selling of Bells for Peace were just a few of the many traditional activities. Concluding the festivities was the annual Christmas Assembly. Here, the Christmas Story was retold while sounds of "O Come All Ye Faithful" filled the auditorium.

JAN McGHAN

Juniors in Miss Economy's homeroom are reminded of their country's liberty and freedom each morning as they repeat the Pledge of Allegiance.

Books and classrooms are forgotten when these senior boys gather in the cafeteria for the most popular period of the day, lunch.

Thirsts are quenched and tensions relieved as students travel to their next class.

Big Red Hobnobs

With the ringing of the 8:10 bell, another day at Wyandotte has officially begun. Everyone scurries to their separate destinations and on to homeroom. Allegiance is pledged to the American flag, and the daily bulletin is read while last-minute test-crammers take advantage of the free time. Another bell rings and the scurrying begins again. In between the confusion, lectures are given, books are read and assignments are completed.

Even with such a set routine, Big Red students find time to socialize. Before school in Social Hall, between classes, at lunch, at assemblies and after school at lockers, students mix and mingle and conversation flows freely. These are the signs of the daily student life.

With the dismissal of sixth hour, doors are flung open and the dragging tempo of the end of the day is stepped up to a faster pace as the students head for home.

Night-Time Events

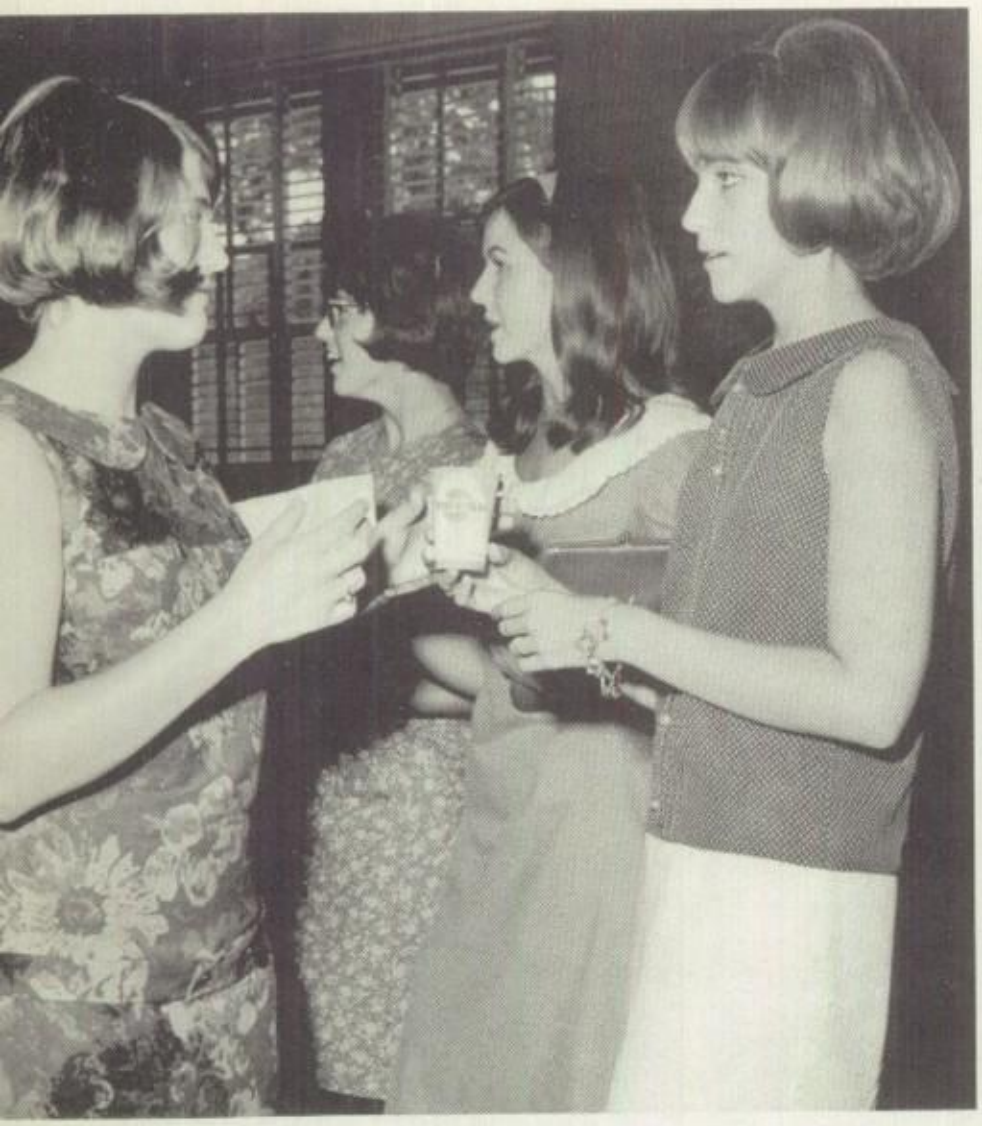
Day's end finds Susan Martin and Ellis Rankin in a deserted Social Hall making plans for the evening.

Wild with enthusiasm, the Kay Cees count down the last 10 seconds of the basketball decision over SM North.

Turn Student Life into a Social Whirl

Beginning in the autumn, student life was swiftly changed into a social whirl with the increasing evening events. Homecoming started the action moving with a game and a dance where a queen reigned. As the action moved on into the year, plays, banquets and sports rivalry filled the nighttime activities. Holiday festivities allowed the girls to invite the boys to a formal dance. In the spring, a musical concert was given, another queen was crowned to represent the season's sports and yearbooks were signed as underclassmen bid each other good-bye for a summer and seniors parted with Wyandotte and many of their friends forever.

Daughters get an opportunity to entertain their mothers at the Girls League Banquet.



1966 League President Barbara Gille offers some advice to the new president, Cathy Lundine, at the first function of the Girls League, Orientation.

Tour guide, Marcia Lewis, finds herself lost in the jungles of the botany greenhouse at the Girls League Sophomore Orientation.

Bulldog spirit is aroused in the traditional finale of the Girls League Welcoming Assembly.

Girls League Welcomes Sophomores

In past years, the Girls League activities have been established as annual traditions. Fulfilling one of these traditions, sophomore girls became acquainted with their new counselors and classrooms at the Sophomore Orientation. The presentation of "The Wizard of Wyandotte" at the Welcoming Assembly, introduced all clubs open to girls.

In December, League members invited dates to celebrate a "Holiday in Vienna" at the annual Christmas Formal. The new officers, elected at an assembly in the Spring, were installed into office at the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The Girls League rounded out the year with the Quiverian Catch-Up where students signed annuals and bid farewells to friends.

Good food and conversation are enjoyed at the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

At the Welcoming Assembly, Nancy Alexander bemoans her deflated basketball, while Susan Anderson and Donna McHenry try to console her.

At the Quiverian Catch-Up, Judy Storm and Karen Hunter take time to admire the new annual before joining the other yearbook signers in the gym.

On her trips to the Melbourne sanctuary, Wendy becomes very fond of the national animal, kangaroos.

With the Pep Band playing "Rebel Rouser," Wendy is surprised by a welcoming ceremony after a year's absence.

AFS'ers, Wendy and Isa Return Home

Wyandotte culture was broadened this year with the arrival of foreign exchange student, Eloiza Tibercio from Itapeve, Brazil. Eloiza, who lived with the family of senior, Cecile Grantham, soon became known as "Isa" to her friends. Isa easily stepped into American life, participating in school, church and civic affairs. The varied selection of extra-curricular activities and the sports enthusiasm at Wyandotte amazed Isa. To Isa, Wyandotte fulfilled her image of a typical American school. Before the summer of 1967 is over, Isa will have had the chance to observe many other American schools on her tour of the U. S. with her AFS friends.

"National Wendy Day" was proclaimed when Wendy Wintermute arrived back at Wyandotte after one year's leave to Melbourne, Australia. Living with the E. W. Atkinson family, Wendy attended the Presbyterian Ladies' College with her Australian sister, Robyn. One noticeable difference between American and Australian customs was the boy-girl relationships. Although the schools are private, Wendy believes the dating privileges are less strict.

Wendy said it was "grand" to be home when she was greeted on her return with the sounds of the Pep Band and a cheering Social Hall. Later in the day she was honored with a reception given by the IRC.

Adopted for one year by the Verlin Grantham family, Isa exhibits samples of Brazilian culture.

Reminiscing about her home, Isa prepares a simple Brazilian dish for the Granthams.

Limelight Shared

There was excitement in the air as the seven candidates for Homecoming Queen 1966 were reviewed once more on that decisive Friday night, September 30. When the candidates arrived on the field, they were escorted through the Honor Pep Guard and to the throne by their fathers.

With the arrival of the three candidates still in competition, the crowd rose to cheer more loudly. Playing "Tonight," the band changed from the formation of the Wyandotte towers to that of a crown in honor of the 1966 Queen, Ann Pittman. Ann received the royal crown and kiss from Jim Kohl and the traditional bouquet from the 1965 Queen, Deanna Bowers. Sabra Brenner and Patty Groves were crowned first and second Princesses by Bill Kerr and George Speer, respectively.

Speculation on the outcome of the Homecoming game is made by Attendants Suzy Bocell and Cathy Eliot.

Seven returning senior Lettermen of the Varsity Football Team were presented with the task of nominating the candidates for the 1966 Homecoming Queen. Once the nominations were made, preliminary voting narrowed the competition down to three. On September 30, the final vote was cast and on that same evening, at the half-time of the Wyandotte-Topeka game, Ann Pittman was announced Homecoming Queen, 1966. A new tradition was set when Ann and her two Princesses, Sabra Brenner and Patty Groves approached the throne through the Honor Pep Guard.

The organization of Homecoming festivities was accredited to the Kay Cees who began making plans and creating decorations the summer before.

1966 Homecoming Attendants are Suzy Bocell, Cathy Eliot, Linn Long and Terri Sellars.

Treasure Revealed

Guests at the 1966 Homecoming Dance on Saturday, October 1, saw the Wyandotte cafeterias transformed into a "Treasure Island." Palm trees swayed and so did the dancers to the beat of the Ravens. There were octopi and starfish everywhere. On the floor were found treasure chests filled with gold. The Queen, escorted by Football Captain Mike Teasley, reigned from a sea-shell throne. The two Princesses were escorted by Lyle White and Steve Snitker.

A gangplank walk-way carried the theme of "Treasure Island" over to the dining room where chaperones served punch and cake. Maps on the wall revealed that the only true treasure was the memories of Homecoming, 1966.

Maudie Acts Up

"It Couldn't Happen to a Nicer Girl" was brought to reality when the curtain rose on the somewhat harried Mason household. The teen-age daughter, Maudie, tried to convince her friends, her sister and her parents that a little lying and conniving was the best technique for handling the opposite sex. However, the only one who took notes on Maudie's advice was her naive cousin, Joy.

Putting her technique into action, Maudie got a loan for her father's business by getting her older sister, Sylvia, a date with the local bank president's son. Just when she had everything set in motion, Maudie's world collapsed in on her. Joy, whom Maudie had educated well in the field of boys, was now dating Maudie's steady, Davy. Maudie then learned of Sylvia's love for someone else and that because of her, the loan didn't go through. In the end, Maudie learned that "no line is the best line of all."

Last-minute script changes are made by student director, Ethel Barton and Mr. Knapp.

Warily, Mrs. Mason greets her morning visitors, who each have their separate complaint against Maudie.

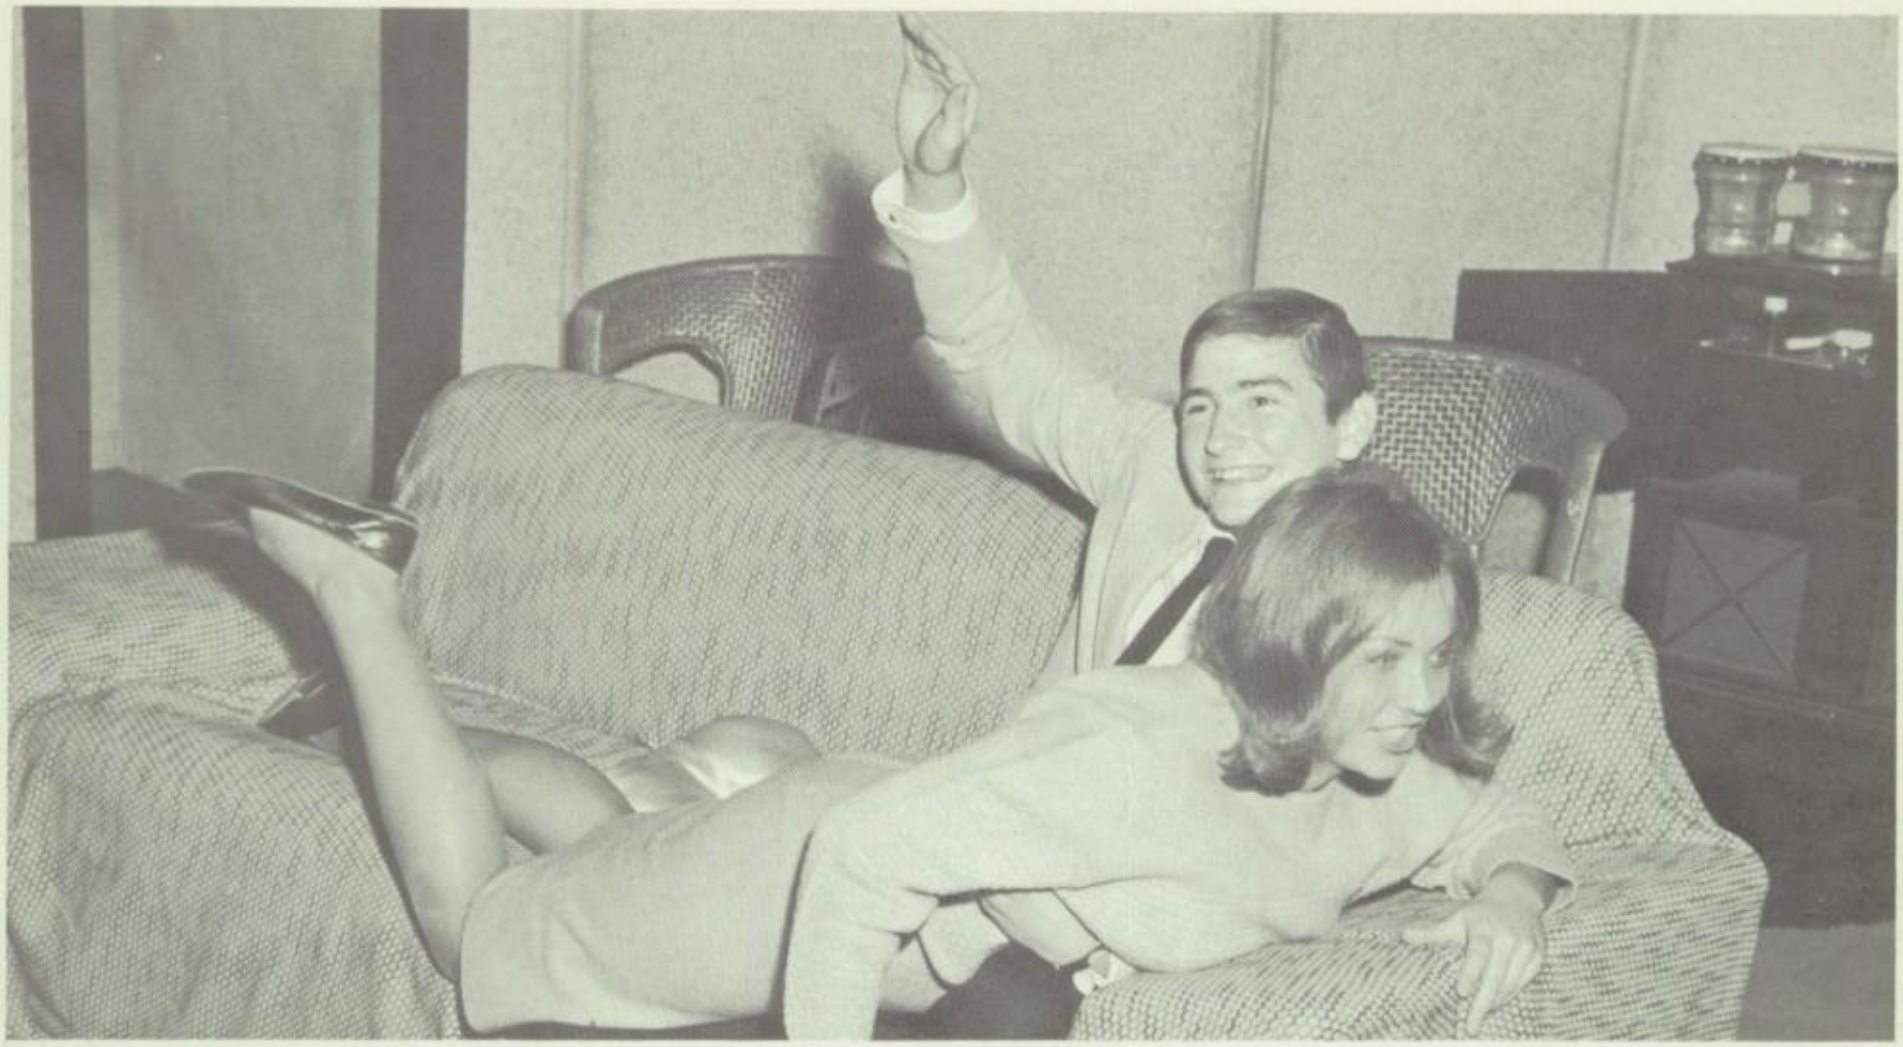
Actors Reap the Rewards of Effort

Mr. Mason and Margaret both have their opinion on where Sylvia's flowers from the local bank president's son, Ted, should be placed.

Hard work, nightly rehearsals and organized planning are the basic ingredients for any good play. These essentials, added to frayed nerves, a lot of sweat and a few tears of exhaustion, were the formula for the Kay Cee production of "It Couldn't Happen to a Nicer Girl."

Directed by Mr. William Knapp, this three-act comedy brought realms of applause and laughter, ample reward for any director, actor or stagehand. Mr Knapp selected Ethel Barton to assist him as his student director. Together they drilled actors and perfected the timing for that one important performance on October 19. Only when the curtain closed on the last act and the back-stage tension subsided, could the cast fully enjoy "It Couldn't Happen to a Nicer Girl."

The Mason household reeks with sarcasm when Maudie readily expounds on her perfected technique for handling members of the opposite sex.



Maudie's constant scheming and lying provoked Jerry to this last resort of violence.

Ladies' man, Chi, is anxious for the action to start and the dance to begin.

Striking a foolish pose, Sylvia reminisces with her mother about high school days and her hockey team.

Cook Lizzie finds the Sutton household too frightening for her and, therefore, bids farewell to Henrietta.

Aided by a little prompting and a lot of apple pie, Baggy-Pa Baldwin reluctantly loses his heart to the youngest Sutt daughter, Carol.

Dizzy Lucas will never learn that polka dot ties don't match striped shirts, but his artistically aspired girlfriend, Wilma Sutton, still tries to teach him.

Dramatists Enact 'Henrietta the Eighth'

Casts from years before have left their imprints on the backs of stage sets. Linda Freidell and Don Duy are no exception to the rule.

Drama Club play tryouts, open only to members, launched this year's production of "Henrietta the Eighth." While most people are aware of the nightly rehearsing of the actors, not many realize the importance of the performances of the backstage cast. Above the noisy hammering of the stage crew, preparing stage sets, script readers could be heard prompting from the sidelines. While the publicity committee was busy distributing posters to every hall and classroom, a ticket booth was set up in Social Hall. Lights, sound, tickets, cues, all these were executed by the behind-the-curtain cast.

Playing the lead role in the backstage production was Director Mr. William Knapp who was supported by his leading lady, Student Director Mildred Everett. Together, they drilled parts and trained voices for performance night, which found them in the wings giving last-minute instructions and words of encouragement.

Wilma knows she won't be saved from Maggie's clutches, but she still persists in teasing her.

Invasion of the Sutton home is made by the Go-Go Set more often than they are welcome.

Sutton Daughters Intimidate Henrietta

"Henrietta the Eighth" was so named because she was Claire Sutton's eighth secretary. The previous seven had been transformed into personal maids by Claire's three spirited daughters. However, the tables were turned on these girls when independent Henrietta arrived.

Henrietta Carver differed from the previous seven secretaries in that she was not a secretary at all, but a writer in disguise who was collecting information for her new book. By the time her identity was discovered, she had established herself as a heroine by uncovering the scandalous doings of Claire Sutton's political rival, Annabelle Mason.

Apparently, Annabelle Mason had been playing a game of blackmail and intimidating Adele Sutton's boyfriend, Jimmy Howard. Henrietta saved Jimmy's reputation, Claire's career and her own pride when she finally caught on to Miss Mason's plot.

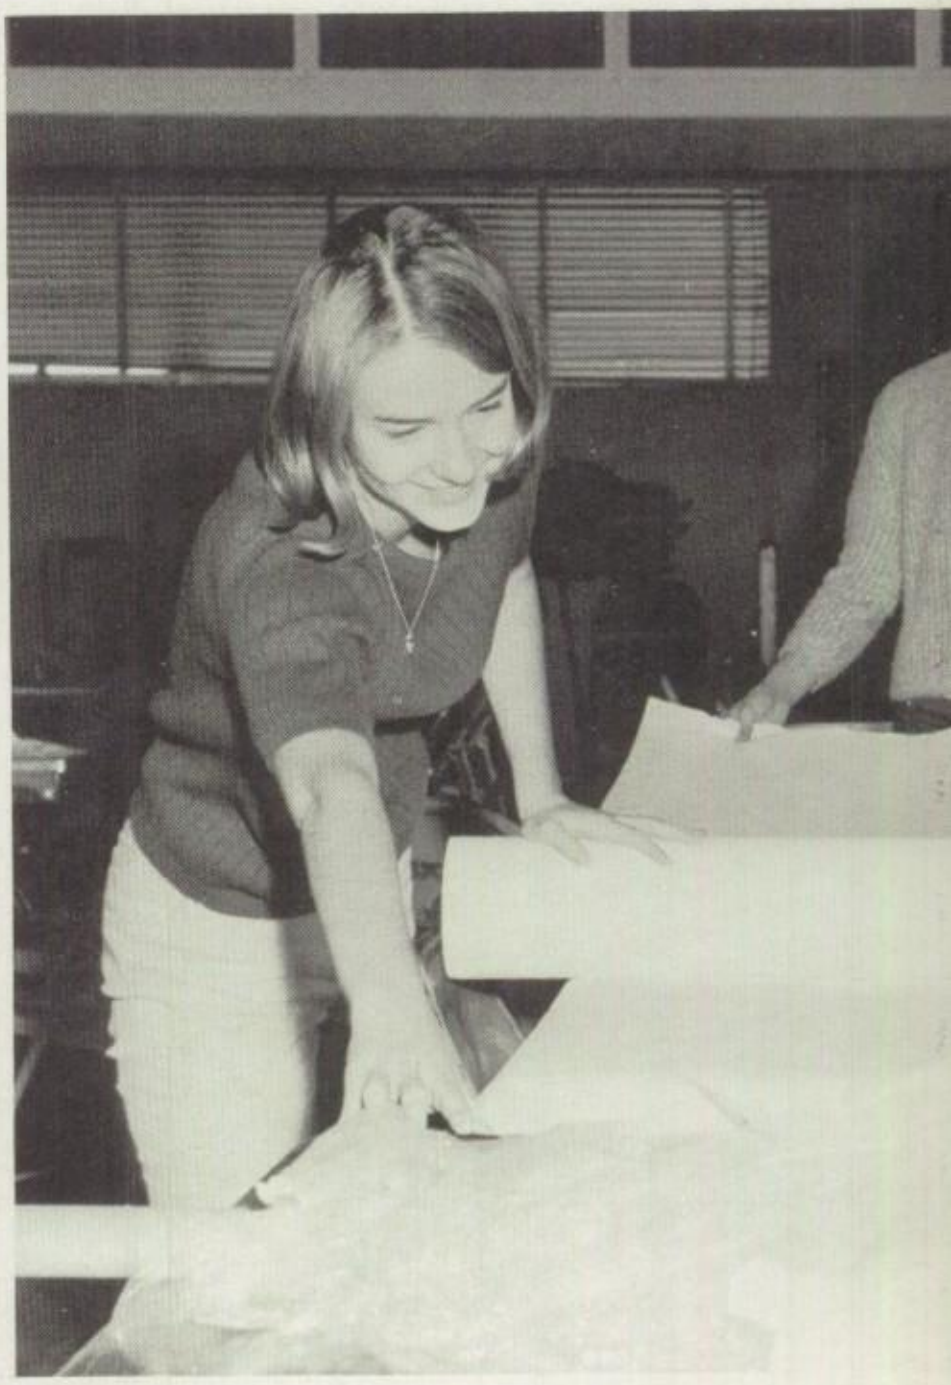
"Pick it up! Pick it up!" Student Director Mildred Everett and Mr. Knapp perfect the timing of the play.

Girls League Creates a Holiday Mood

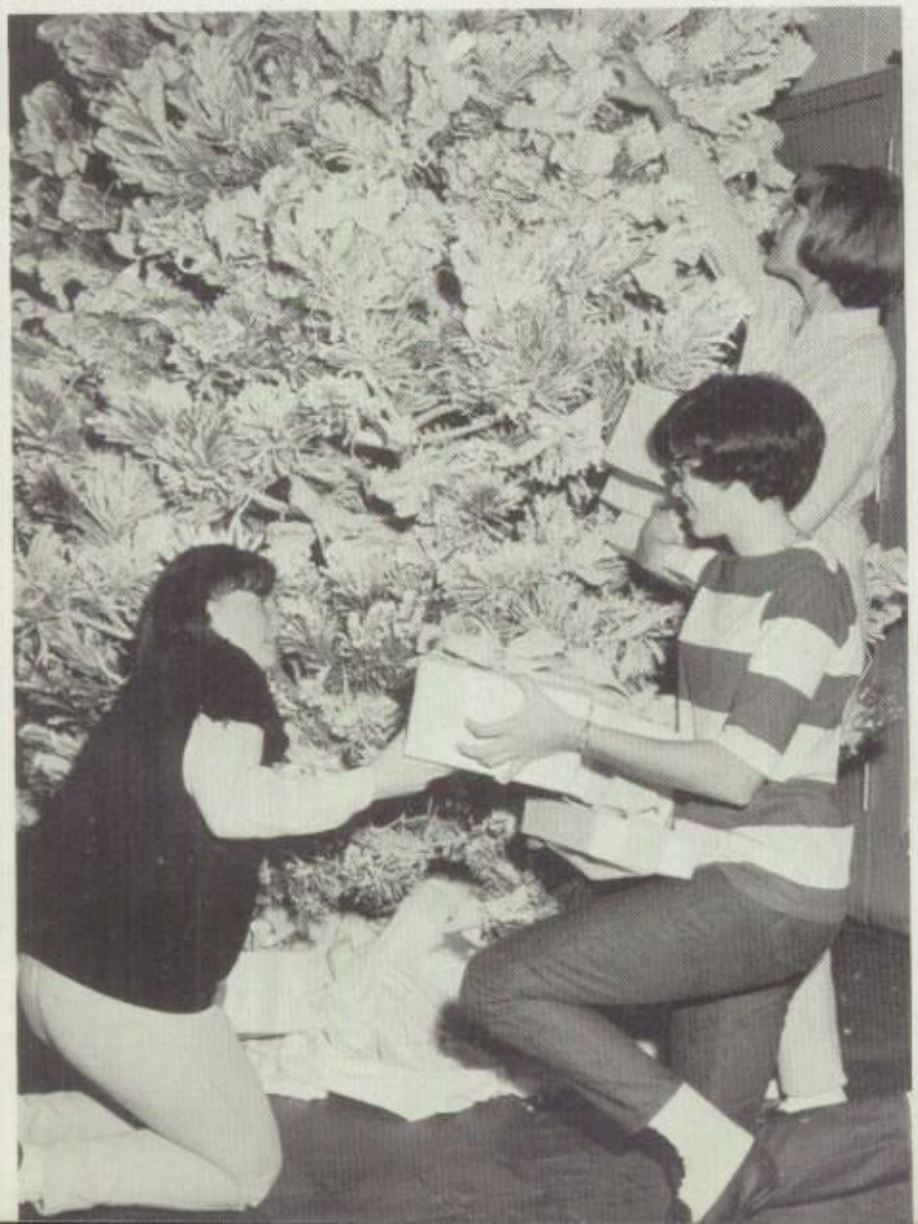
Miss Barnett, Girls League sponsor, organizes the separate committees into working order at the Armory.

With much forethought and planning, the annual Girls League Christmas Formal began production weeks in advance of the dance. Girls League co-sponsor, Mrs. Nancy Allen and Sandy Grantham undertook the table decorations as their special project. In assembly line manner, Mrs. Allen and her crew of council members and representatives produced pink and green topiary-tree centerpieces daily.

Bob Murray's Orchestra provided the entertainment and committee members volunteered their parents to chaperone and serve refreshments. When the last ticket was sold, the refreshments prepared and the decorations placed, the Girls League sat back to enjoy a "Holiday in Vienna."



Finishing touches to the Christmas tree are applied by Rexanne Kivett, Nancy Alexander and Vickie Martin.



Checking the topiary-tree center-pieces for the last time is Mrs. Nancy Allen, co-sponsor of the League.

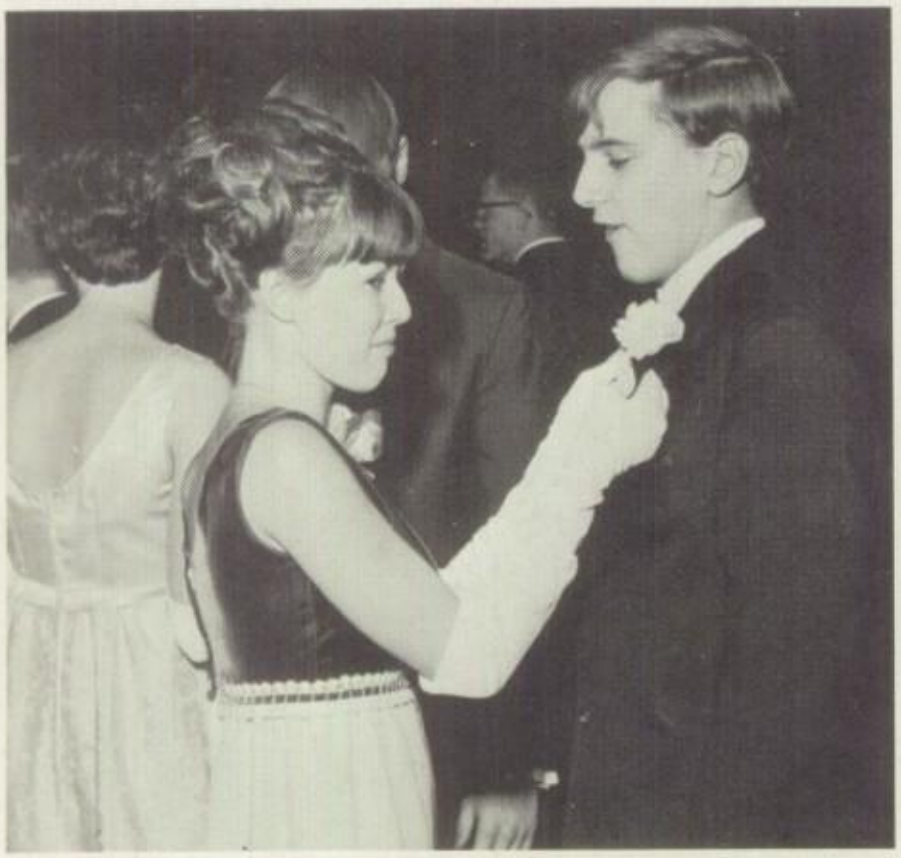
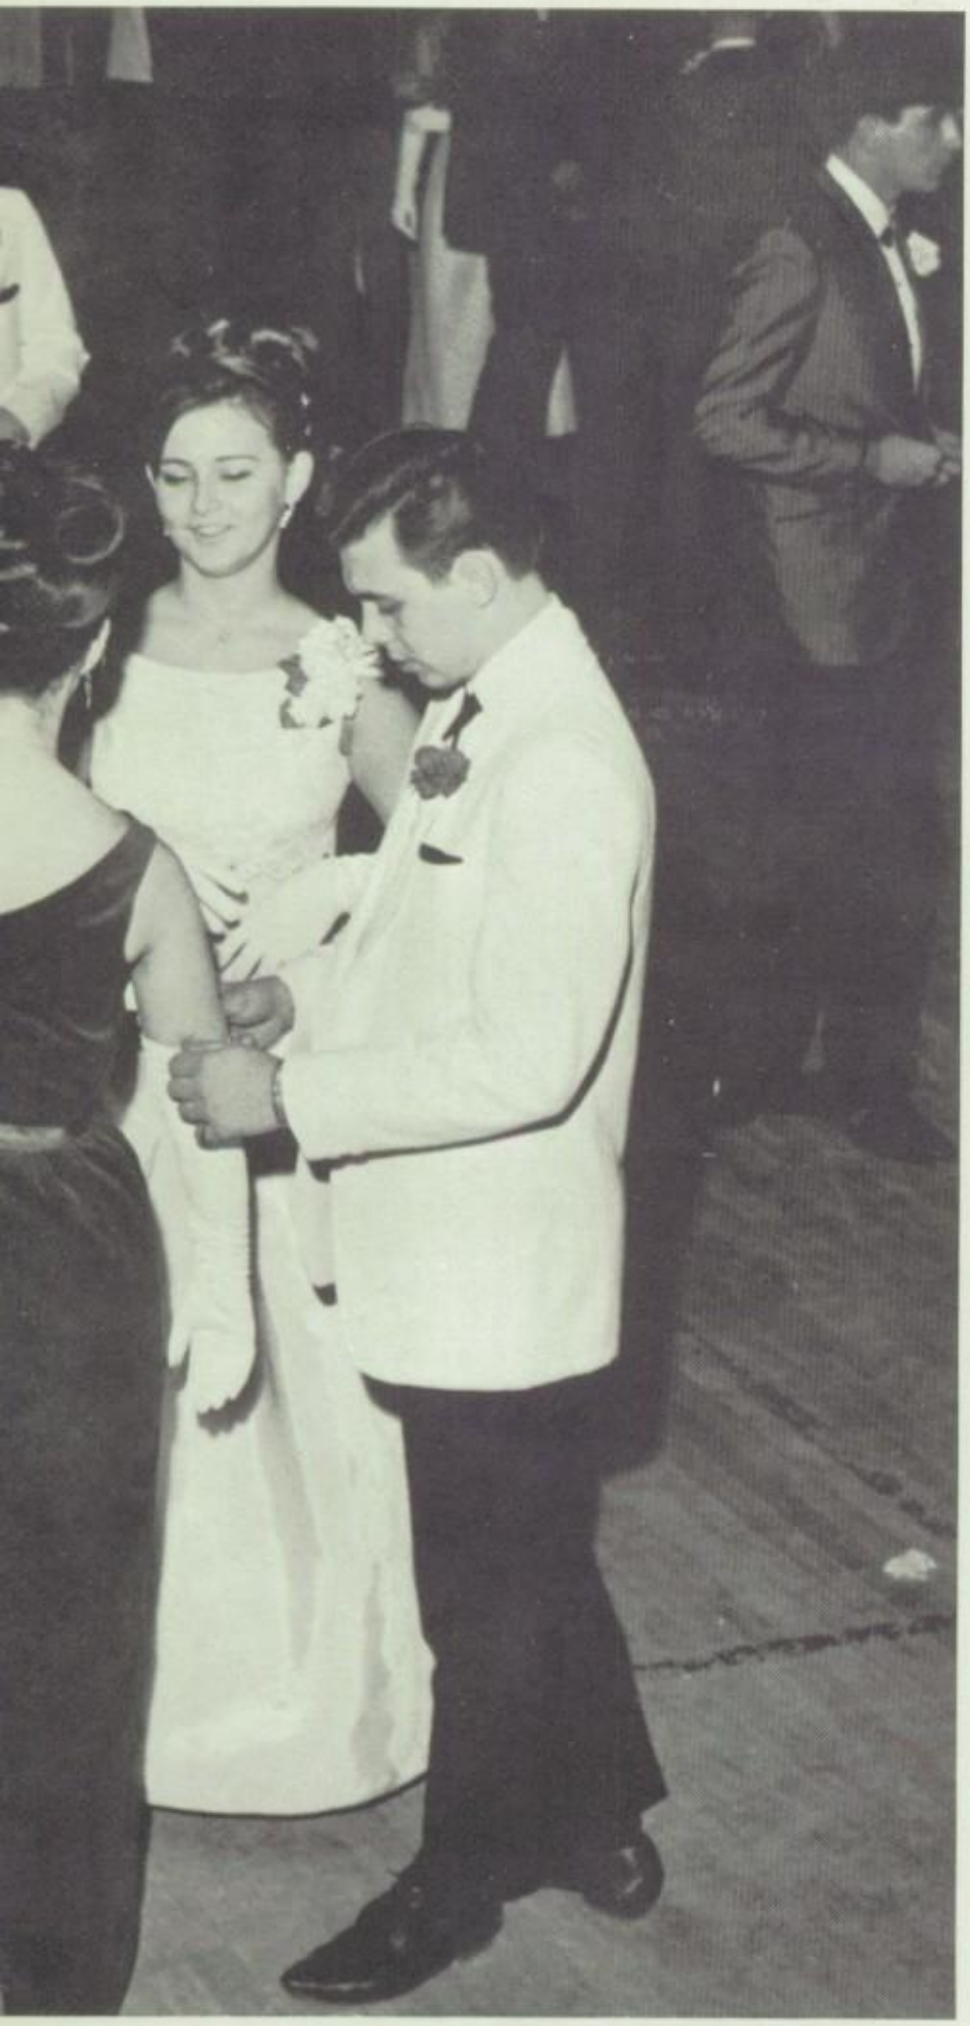
Fountains are the final touch to the Vienna dance theme carried out in the National Guard Armory.



Promising not to stick him, Karen Holder quickly secures Randy Blair's boutonnier before joining the other dancers at the Christmas Formal.

No Christmas celebration would be complete without a tinsel decorated evergreen to highlight the season. As is traditional, the Christmas Formal tree is transferred to Social Hall to be enjoyed by Wyandotte students.

Girls Ask Boys to Celebrate Holiday



National Guard Armory was the place, December 10 was the date and eight o'clock was the time guests began to arrive at the traditional Girls League Christmas Formal. Coordinated by the League Sponsor, Miss Helen Barnett, this girl-ask-boy affair fulfilled the theme of "Holiday in Vienna" with candle chandeliers. Fountains adorned the dance floor and the refreshment table where they spouted punch.

The last dance marked the end of another Christmas Formal, but the strains of that song still linger in the memories of that "Holiday in Vienna."

Sparkling, punch-spouting fountains offer interesting center pieces for the refreshment buffet which accomodated a steady stream of thirsty dancers.

"Childe Jesus" is enacted by the Drama Department and proclaimed by the Symphony Orchestra and A Cappella Choir.

Portraying the Israelite's leader, Dan Baxley lifts his hand to the eastern star in the dramatization of "Childe Jesus."

In humble reverence, the A Cappella Choir sings of the birth of Christ.

Thoughts Turn from Books to Christmas

During the weeks preceding Christmas, thoughts were turned from books and studies and were centered on the upcoming holiday. Classrooms, halls and activities were changed to fit the festive mood. The hub of all activity, Social Hall, was adorned with burning fire places which reflected brightly on the towering evergreen in the center of the hall. American Field Service Bells for Peace hung from every door and many classrooms sang Yuletide carols in a foreign tongue. On the last day before the holiday vacation, the Christmas message was dramatized and heralded at the annual Christmas Assembly.

Top Three Compete

Nominations were cast on January 30, for the 1967 Relays Queen candidates. The 20 senior boys who lettered in track, tennis, baseball or golf in 1966 selected 11 girls to compete for the Relays Crown. On Friday, February 3, votes were counted in homeroom and Lin Kimbrell, Fran Lovitch and Winifred Patton emerged as the three finalists. The following Friday, Linda Kimbrell was voted 1967 Relays Queen to reign at the Wyandotte County Relays and present the medals to the winners.

Putting aside her royal duties, Linda Kimbrell centers her attention on the business at hand--taking class notes for the next day's examination.

1967 Relays Attendants are Vivian Poje, Beverly Walker, Patricia Forsberg, Sabra Brenner, Cathy Eliot, Carylon Morris, Tammy Miller and Cheryl Churchwell.

Primary voting narrowed the competition down to three--Windy Patton, Lin Kimbrell and Fran Lovitch. The candidates review the election write-up in the Pantograph.

Spurrlows, Grady

Offering a break from the routine schedule of school work were student assemblies. These assemblies often promoted high ideals and goals. Junior Achievement corporations were rapidly woven into the extra-curricular activities by Mr. Mike Wilson. Fisher Body encouraged boys to win a scholarship by designing their own car of the future.

Singing "Music for Modern Americans," the Chrysler-sponsored Spurrlows and television star Don Grady successfully entertained Wyandotte students during their 1966 high school tour.

Switching from his role on "My Three Sons," Don Grady sings Beatle John Lennon's "Yesterday."

With a little prompting from Mr. Jeff Thompson, Cheryl Cade tests the strength of glass with her weight.

Lockers slammed and bells rang as students assembled to hear of new theories, to discuss an exciting novel or to create a work of art. Wyandotte's faculty penetrated even the minds of the inattentive thinkers with intrigueing ideas and answers for inquisitive minds. Papers to grade and tests to write, composed the homework of faculty members as they departed each day with bulging brief cases.

New Offices Form Hub of District

When the Kansas City, Kansas Board of Education moved into its new offices in the Public Library, it was christened the central hub for supervision of area schools. The new library, a modern complex complete with carpeting and plush furniture, provided the community with many innovations and a greater variety of material. Electric typewriters, Xerox machines and a wide selection of records and books were only a few of the new services offered by the three-floor expanse.

Attachment of the Washington school district to the system in January enlarged the enrollment by 10,500. With new facilities and increased enrollment, Dr. O. L. Plucker, his staff and the Board of Education worked together in coordinating the area schools in a unified manner.

During the past year, the administration put into effect the quarter grading system, provided a more interesting array of assemblies, saw the rennovation of the faculty lounges and provided a counseling-planning room with home offices for the floating faculty.

Counselors Channel Student Goals

With the increased enrollment and additional administrative responsibilities came a second vice-principal, Mr. Thomas Rhone, former vice-principal and social studies teacher at Sumner. Along with coordinating school activities, he assisted Mr. David Kendall with various duties including book rental and Youth Job Corps.

In the expanded field of guidance, the six counselors initiated a distribution plan which enabled each counselor to serve both boys and girls. Students were guided in college selections, vocational plans and class planning. Representatives from various colleges and vocational training classes in high school also assisted in student guidance.

Themes Develop Writing Abilities

The core of any English Department rests upon the literary achievements of its students. For this reason, all English students were required to write a minimum number of ten themes per year, and some classes also made their first real attempt at short stories and term papers. Journalistic proteges also worked toward literary achievement in newspaper and yearbook work.

New grammar books and supplementary writing texts provided a foundation for grammarians interested in the structure of language. Also, equipment in the audio-visual field assisted teaching techniques. The city-wide project of portable paper back book stores, sponsored at Wyandotte by the English Department, was one more step in developing the study of literature. Books were sold in each room to encourage outside reading.

Linguists Strive for Fluency

Speaking was a talent, whether it was in front of an audience, behind a lectern or in a foreign language, and no matter what phase it was, there was a department at Wyandotte for that purpose. Expression in acting was stressed as drama classes performed for Drama Club and public enjoyment. Public speaking and conversational techniques improved as speech classes used impromptu speeches for training. Hypothesis Invades Science Mysteries

As jets race to meet the horizon, so, too, was the Science Department racing to keep up with the times. With numerous new visual aids, including books and films, each student scientist struggled to become aware of current scientific discoveries. This year more time was spent in the laboratory and in investigations, with the idea in mind that seeing is believing and also aids in learning new material. New books emphasized the study of cells and experimentation. The scientific method was adopted as law as students invaded the worlds of the sciences.

Studies Concentrate on Citizenship

Miss Barfield checks to make sure that she has the film strip on the branches of the government.

Learning from the mistakes of the past and being aware of world relations were the two goals of the Social Science Department as it concentrated on developing outstanding citizens. Newspapers, magazines and other current literature were, often for the first time, given priority over the text. Class participation proved an important part in learning as this year's social science classes reinacted congressional discussions and historic events.

Election Year Spurs Interests

The Conference on Foreign and Domestic Affairs was only one of the numerous new projects that encouraged interest of students of the Social Science Department this year. This assembly was for a number of students in the Kansas City, Kansas area to discuss and consider topics of joint interest concerning problems of the world. Speakers at the conference included Mayor Joseph McDowell, and Dr. Plucker.

Full advantage was taken of the election year as candidates for public office were invited to speak to students at school on campaign issues. Also, a visit to the county court house by some social science classes gave young citizens an inside view of governmental procedures.

Accuracy and perfection symbolize the painstaking efforts of each and every business student as he or she strove to positive correctness. The use of confusing new machines, ranging from typewriters to calculators, may have slowed the road to success but repeated practice and their operation became second nature.

Economic awareness gave value to Wall Street and student appreciation of money intensified the study of taxation. Business world know-how was the achievement most students sought, in hopes of qualifying for future employment.

Apprentices Acquire Learned Skills

Starting as apprentices, the students in manual and home economics training worked their way to bigger and better architectural designs and chocolate layer cakes. Keeping up with fashions and recipes posed a problem for the novice home economist, while architectural trends and 1967 automobiles challenged manual classes. Modern equipment, such as stoves in the kitchen and amplifiers in the shop, created new student interest. Boys and girls alike learned practical skills which, if not developed as a profession, could result in invaluable help in everyday life.

Always on the job, the cafeteria and maintenance staffs filled the tummies and warmed the halls of Wyandotte. Appealing to the appetite, the menus of the cafeteria lengthened and prices rose with the greater demand.

The maintenance staff office, once located on first floor, was enlarged and relocated in the tunnels behind the kitchen.

With boards to erase and dishes to wash, the tasks of each janitor and cook seemed endless, but no job was left undone as the workers kept Wyandotte in tip-top shape.

Thespians, Quill and Scroll Honored

Wyandotte's chapter of Thespians, one of the oldest in the international organization, again recognized outstanding dramatic work. Points given for lines memorized, script reading, and production work were totaled, and, for those students with a sufficient accumulation of points, Thespian membership was granted.

At a solumn spring ceremony, pins were awarded to signify honorary membership into Quill and Scroll. Members of the Pantograph and Quiverian staffs were recognized for their journalistic endeavors. Throughout the year Quill and Scroll candidates were available for preparation of programs of school events, according to Mr. Naylor, sponsor.

Artists, Debaters are Recognized

Fast thinking and split-second answering proved to be essential characteristics for Forensic League members as they represented their school at area debate meets and showed outstanding debating skills. Competition in out-of-school tournaments also expanded the members' abilities, even after having already received honorary membership at the annual Forensic dinner.

Pins were awarded in recognition of membership into the National Art Honor Society. Each student who was qualified to enter assembled a display consisting of 10 pieces of work they created during the previous year. Area art authorities judged the displays, and, for those who showed superior talent over community competition, membership was granted.

Academic Honors

Academic achievement was reflected as students filled qualifications for national and area scholarships and became recipients of academic honors. National Merit Scholarship Test finalists and commended students set the pace for scholastic honors as one received a Putnam Scholarship and another visited the Southwest Bell Telephone Laboratories in New Jersey. Among them also were some of the delegates to the University of Missouri Saturday Seminars, and Boys' and Girls' State.

Semifinalist status for the NROTC scholarship and awarding of the National Negro Achievement Scholarship also denoted the scholarly achievement among Wyandotte students.

To represent Wyandotte among other high schools is a big responsibility as well as an honor. To work and learn among other students at Boys' and Girls' State and to attend the Midwest Music and Fine Arts Camp were the honors given to many students. Representing Wyandotte in South Africa was the enormous responsibility of Steve Curtis as the AFS diplomat. The winning of the Optimist Scholarships for Outstanding Senior boy and girl of the area labeled Wyandotte with scholastic achievement. $150 scholarships were awarded to the two seniors submitting the best essays as well as to the two seniors written about.

Wyandotte's faculty took on two new members at the semester to replace Mr. Jon Anderson and Mrs. Janet Kraus.

For every girl who enrolled at Wyandotte came automatic membership in Girls League, the school's largest club. The officers, council and homeroom representatives planned such traditional activities as the Girls League Orientation, Assemblies, the Christmas Formal, Election of the 1967-68 Officers Assembly and the Mother-Daughter Banquet, making 1966-67 by no means inactive for the League.

At meetings, which the Council attended, the officers related the plans and ideas for future events; from there, the council transmitted the news to the representatives, who carried the news to their homerooms. Bringing the year to a close, the Girls League sponsored the Quiverian Catch-Up, which gave students a chance to sign yearbooks.

Journalists Report Student Activities

1967 was a year of honors and changes for the Pantograph. Among the awards received were the highly coveted George H. Gallup Award and the CSPA Gold Key, received by sponsor, Mr. Frank Naylor.

A significant change was the addition of a Sports News Bureau. Bob Dickson, co-ordinator for this, the Bureau's first year, submitted sports information daily to The Kansan, The Kansas City Star and various area radio stations.

The second semester brought changes in staff positions; among them, Nancy Teters became Editor-in-Chief, replacing Pat Forsberg, who became Sponsor's Assistant. With their leadership and Mr. Naylor's advice, the staff met the frantic weekly deadlines which filled the busy year.

Establishing a theme, drawing layouts and planning pictures were only a few of the many tasks faced by the 1967 Quiverian staff in its attempt to record the memorable events of the year. Work began last spring, following three weeks on intensive training and final selection, and continued into the summer with numerous money-making projects. The hard-earned $650 was applied to several new features in the book, including additional color photography and a more expensive cover.

Thousands of hours were spent in taking pictures, doing research, writing copy and pasting up in an attempt to uphold the A+ rating which was awarded to the 1966 Quiverian by the National School Yearbook Association.

The dedicated efforts of the 10 staff members, three photographers and 19 cubs were under the guidance of Miss Niki M. Economy, sponsor.

Cubs Assist Staff

Selling calendars, checking index material, gathering faculty information and typing and alphabetizing lists were only a few of the duties with which the Quiverian Cubs were faced. Throughout the year, these 19 junior girls assisted the staff and were introduced to the tasks of yearbook production.

In March, the girls underwent an intensive three-week training course after school where they were taught the basic fundamentals of yearbook know-how. Selection of the '68 staff was based on final grades made during the course, and plans were begun on the 1968 yearbook.

Style is almost as important in a debate as material, so Talkdogs spend many hours perfecting their presentations. Here, Dave Sorrels, three-year member of the team, practices his technique in a scrimmage debate.

Talkdogs Put Qualities into Practice

"Debate is one of the most valuable courses a student can take," stated Mr. Leonard Jensen, debate coach. "Not only does it teach him clear thinking and effective speaking, but it also gives him a chance to compete interscholastically." In competition this year, teams placed as high as second place in five tournaments.

This year's debate topic was "Resolved: That the foreign aid policy of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance." The Talkdogs spent many hours in research which gave them new interests in current events and taught them to look on both sides of a question.

Climaxing weeks of preparation, Wyandotte debaters leave for an overnight tournament trip to Manhattan.

French and Latin Cultures Flourish

Having finished their caroling, the French Club members chat before refreshments are served.

Classical Club activities were molded by old customs and new events. This year interested members with good grades could become part of the Classical Association of Kansas and Western Missouri. Activities included the State Junior Classical League Convention, a travelogue, a slave auction and a State Tournament which tested the members' knowledge of Latin. Miss Ione Mettlen sponsored the club which was headed by Rick Golub, president.

Attending French plays and the annual Mardi Gras, choosing pen pals and caroling on Christmas were the highlights of this year's French Club. Meetings were centered around the idea of learning more about the private life of the French people. Presiding over these meetings was Pat Forsberg. Mrs. Diane Hayden was the sponsor.

Requirements for membership differed in the number of years Spanish was studied.

Promoting culture and customs along with the actual study of German, constituted a major part of the German Club's activities. This year the German Club had two picnics instead of the usual one, one in the fall and another in the spring. Making use of German customs were the German Club Dancers, who performed at banquets, churches and clubs. Selling tupperware and having a car wash were new aspects of the Horizon Club. Members of the club sold candy and gave a party for the Blind School. Sponsors were Mrs. Sherron Thiry and Mrs. Marilyn Logan, with Miriam Gentzler, president.

Y-Teens, a service organization, began the year by selling over 12,000 pencils. Promoting Christian fellowship was its main goal. Giving gifts to the patients at the Broadview Rest Home was one of the major projects. Club president was Tammy Miller; its sponsor, Miss Mary Crown.

Selling popcorn and candy bars at football and basketball games and operating the check stand at plays were a small portion of the activities of the Hi-Y. Sponsoring the club was Mr. Johnson and presiding over the meetings was Jody Davis.

Student Clubs Prepare

Repairing radios and televisions was the highlight of the Radio Club's activities. Mr. Bill Brubaker and Merrel Miller, president, led the club members in learning more about electronics.

The Science Club opened its door to the exploration of new aspects in its field. Presiding over the activities was Walt Robinson, guided by Mrs. Charlotte Kimbrough and Mr. Kirk Stubblefield.

Mr. Gerald Ulrich and Mr. Larry Hodges sponsored the Math Club through the leadership of Cecil Stuerke, president. The club was designed to explore more difficult problems than are dealt with in daily class routine.

for the Future

Printing play programs was a task of the Printing Club. Mr. Harry Shute and Richard Yergovich, president, assisted members in becoming better associated with the industries of printing.

To provide an outlet for creative writing, a new club was formed. The Creative Writing Club introduced members to technical aspects of preparing material for publication. Miss Pat Sheley and Mr. Robert Harvey aided Dawna Davis, president.

Exhibiting their talents in a collection of paintings, the members of the Art Club used these to decorate Social Hall under the direction of Miss Marieta Spurgeon and Miss Evelyn Phelps.

Student Musicians Display Versatility

"Lights! Cameras! Action!" The thrilling sights and sounds of a live television appearance were experienced by members of the A Cappella Choir. The Choir, under the direction of Miss Marguerite Theis, presented six Christmas selections on a special program produced by KCMO-TV. This program, in addition to the traditional Christmas Assembly, kept the Choir busy during the weeks preceding Christmas.

Instrumental music, directed by Mr. Don Lowe, supplied additional entertainment for many school activities. The Marching Band performed at the football games, the Orchestra provided musical interludes at the plays, and the two combined talents for the Spring Concert. At the basketball games, the Pep Band furnished a modern beat for the Kay Cee victory chants.

Melodies Echo

A winter concert was added to the activities of the Orchestra this year, providing the 100 members with another opportunity to display their various talents. Under the direction of Mr. Don Lowe, who was a new addition to the Music Department this year, the Orchestra strummed an arrangement of Christmas carols in the annual Christmas Assembly. It also provided highlights between acts of the various school plays throughout the year. Later, Orchestra members busied themselves practicing for the Spring Concert, in co-operation with the Vocal Music Department, and for the State Music Festival at Lawrence, at which individuals and ensembles performed.

The Symphony Orchestra was able to entertain at these various events after hours of diligent practice.

Band Keeps Time

In his first year at Wyandotte, Mr. Don Lowe created a new appearance for the Marching Band's half-time performances by adding a greater number and variety of formations.

As their final and longest program, the 105 advanced music students in the Band presented an extended program at the last home football game entitled "Campaign Capers."

During their daily fall meetings, the Band, along with the Majorettes and Banner Girls, practiced for its traditional performances in the American Royal Parade and the University of Kansas Band Day. At their spring meetings, they practiced for their annual concert and for their performance at Commencement exercises as the Concert Band.

Fulfilling their responsibilities as Marching Band Managers, Keith Schult, Gary Brown, George Sooter and Mike King check conditions of the uniforms before putting them away for the season.

Choir Molds Tones

A Cappella, with its wide range of voices, played an important part in Wyandotte's traditional Christmas Assembly. Composed of music students with at least two years of participation, the Choir performed without any source of instrumental accompaniment. The 52 members of the group, who were chosen last spring by their director, Miss Marguerite Theis, had to have at least a two grade average, and met every day during fourth hour.

Its members participated in competition with other vocal music students in the City Wide and State Music Festivals in the spring and sang at Graduation Ceremonies and Baccalaureate. A Cappella also entertained at community and school functions upon various requests.

Singers Harmonize

Proper posture, breathing, tone and voice production are some of the accomplishments gained by the members of the Advanced Girls Glee Club. The girls sang in the traditional Christmas Assembly, the Spring Musical, the Spring Festival and other community and school programs.

Also under the direction of Miss Theis was the Boys Glee Club. They learned about public performing, music literature, posture, breathing, tone, production and blending. They performed at school assemblies, the Spring Musical and various community and school functions.

The two Glee Clubs were furnished with accompaniment by Shirley Sherwood, Carol Durham, Kathy Irvin, Janet Smarr, Dorothy Moody and Marcia Lisbona.

Pep Boosts Teams

Cheering Wyandotte's sports teams to victory this year were 300 Kay Cees. The Kay Cees sponsored many activities, the first of which was the Homecoming Dance, "Treasure Island" and the Kay Cee play, "It Couldn't Happen to a Nicer Girl." They also sponsored the crowning of the Relays Queen and helped support the AFS student.

The Kay Cees traveled to away games to yell for their team as they did for home games. The Kay Cee Officers helped carry out the many activities with the advice of sponsors, Mr. James Jackson and Mrs. Nancy Allen.

As the final touch to the Marching Band and a highlight at sports events, the Majorettes entertained with the Band at various functions. The Majorettes for 1966 are: Kathy Cindrich, sophomore; Dorothy Hicks, junior; Joyce Cunningham, Head Drum Majorette; Mary Simonich, junior; Rexanne Kivett, junior.

Pepsters Arouse Spirit in Many Ways

Although using different methods, the members of four pep groups helped to promote school spirit at various events.

Formed primarily to play at basketball games, the Pep Band was composed of 16 boys who were in either band or orchestra and were chosen by Mr. Lowe, director.

Supervised by Mr. James Jackson, Honor Pep decorated for Homecoming, planned pep assemblies, wrapped goal posts, painted signs and attended games.

Performing at home football and basketball games, pep assemblies and parades, the Majorettes represented Wyandotte's enthusiasm and spirit at all games.

Last year's Banner Girls performed again this year at all athletic events and parades to identify Wyandotte.

Representing Wyandotte at all athletic events and parades, and marching in front of the Marching Band are the duties of the junior Banner Girls for 1966: Linda Richards, Mary Ann Robertson, Phyllis Berry, Nancy Cleveland, Sarah Harding, Connie Ellis, Marjorie Yeazel, Celia Hernandez, Brenda Blevins.

Yells Echo Spirit

Following the two nights of exciting cheerleading tryouts in the spring was the selection of the Varsity and Reserve Cheerleaders. Chosen on the basis of their pep, co-ordination and grade averages, the girls practiced diligently through the summer for the long year ahead.

During her first year of sponsorship, Mrs. Nancy Allen enrolled the cheerleaders in the National Cheerleaders Association Clinic, where the girls gained recognition as being the first school to join the organization. As a result of their memberships, they were pictured throughout a national cheerleading magazine.

Pep, spirit and enthusiasm were all part of Wyandotte's 12 cheerleaders, as they inspired the Bulldogs to victories in every sport. With the determination of spurring their team to victory, the cheerleaders helped to bring the 1966-67 athletic season into full swing.

Spirit of Sports

Highlighted by the frantic students yelling for the field goal during the football game, the endless cross-country run and the sweating basketball player making a free shot, Wyandotte's athletics captured honors in many fields.

Trophies placed in the trophy case, medals to be pinned on chests and awards to be worn on a chain were given to the excited and proud participants and coaches who were inspired with the need to achieve and win.

In sports as in any other area of endeavor, 1966-67 was characterized by hard work and practice, in order to participate with the stiff competition Bulldogs faced on all sides. This, combined with student and faculty support, encouraged the spirit of sports at Big Red.

Ward Halts Canines

Eagerly awaiting the 1966 football season last summer, the Bulldogs started their nightly practices on August 1. They worked long and hard and were determined to make the season worthwhile. Although the Canines won only four and lost five, the season was not without its high points. As summarized by Coach Ellis, "Our season was a good one, but not a great one."

Entering the grid campaign, the fighting Bulldogs fell to the Ward Cyclones by the score of 27-0, in a game marked by bruising lines on both sides. Stopping the whirlwinds, Lyle White, halfback, intercepted a Cyclone pass on the 20-yard line which ended Ward's final bid for a score.

Next, the Big Red tried to garner a win from the Washington Wildcats.

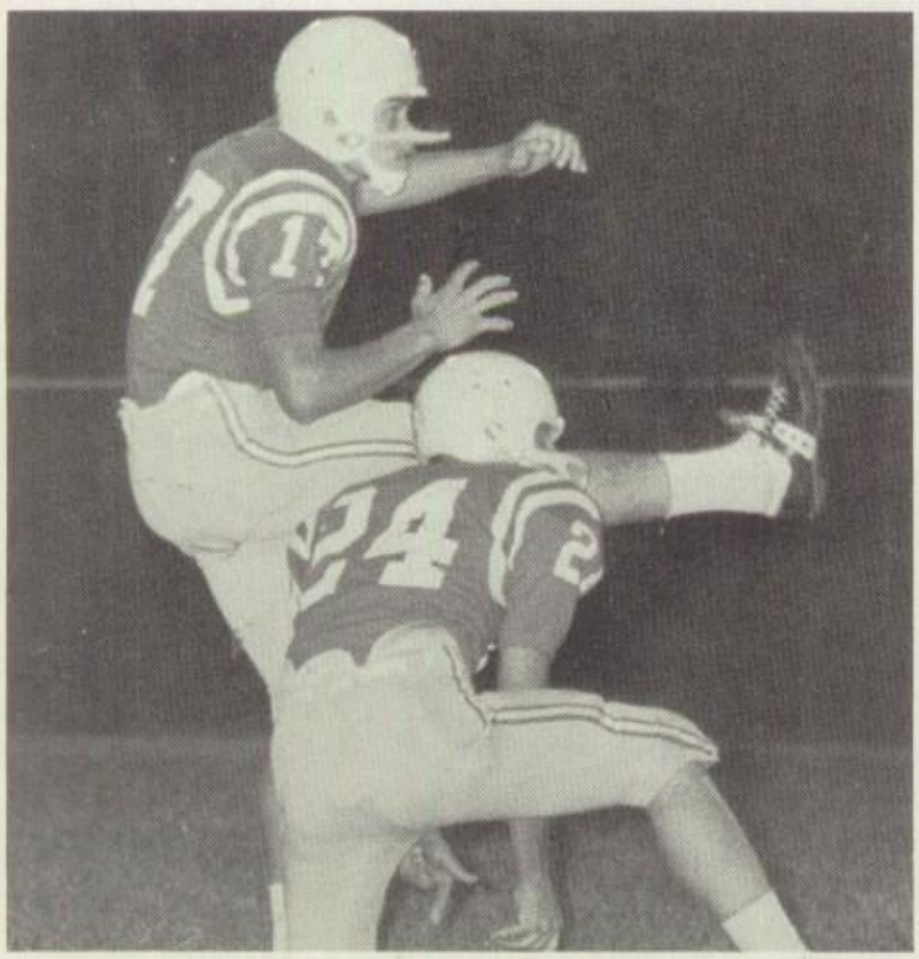
Opponents Take Five Over Bulldogs



Bill Blalock adds an extra point against the Trojans.

In an attempt to gain yardage, Jim McCaston scooted 32 yards down the line. This attempt, however, was in vain. Washington scored 13 over Wyandotte's 0.

The losing pattern changed when Big Red challenged the Topeka Trojans. With the help of Alonzo Thomas, who intercepted a pass on the 31-yard line and ran down-field scoring the second touchdown of the game, Wyandotte finally entered the scoring column. Using their own incentive, the Canines battled for a victorious Homecoming game, 20-12.

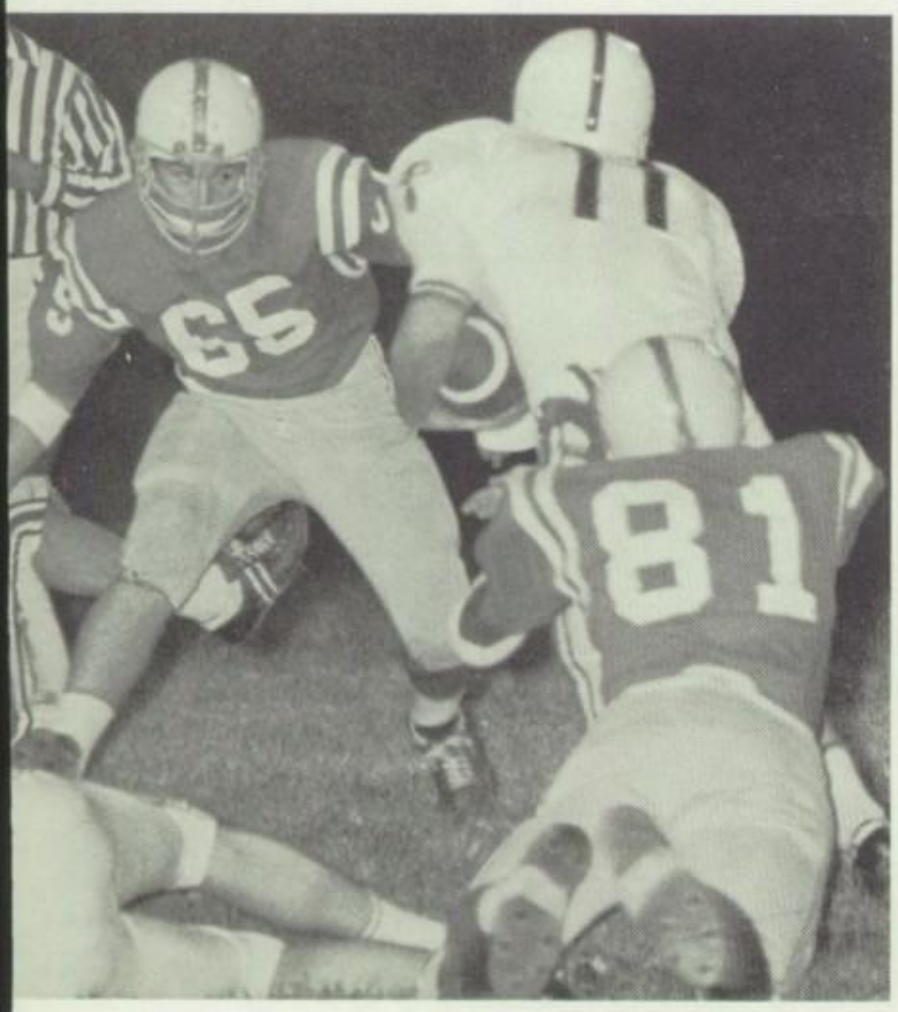
For their third game, the Bulldogs traveled to Topeka West scoring another victory, 18-0. Touchdowns were made by Jim Dukelow, Vernon Braswell and Paul Womble.

Launching forth for the next two games, the Red and White fought the S.M.N. Indians and the S.M.E. Lancers. While the Indians scalped them 46-0, the Lancers sliced them 42-0.

Anxiously awaiting to nab a Lawrence ball carrier, Bill Erickson waits for a chance to make the tackle.

Anticipating an opportune moment, Larry Keeble pushes a Cyclone into the ground.

Ends, Alonzo Thomas and Dave Wessel, apply the brakes to an S.M.E. Lancer as he tries to break through the Bulldog line.



Football Managers for the 1966-1967 season are: Standing: Joe Manezuk, John Manezuk. Seated: Ed Rust, Richard Hamilton.

A 25-13 score was the result as Steve Johnson and Jim Dukelow hustle on the scene to tear down the action of the Shawnee Mission West Vikings as they tried to break through the Bulldog line.

Charging the Ward Cyclones, Alonzo Thomas and Larry Sells help Jim Dukelow recover the ball.

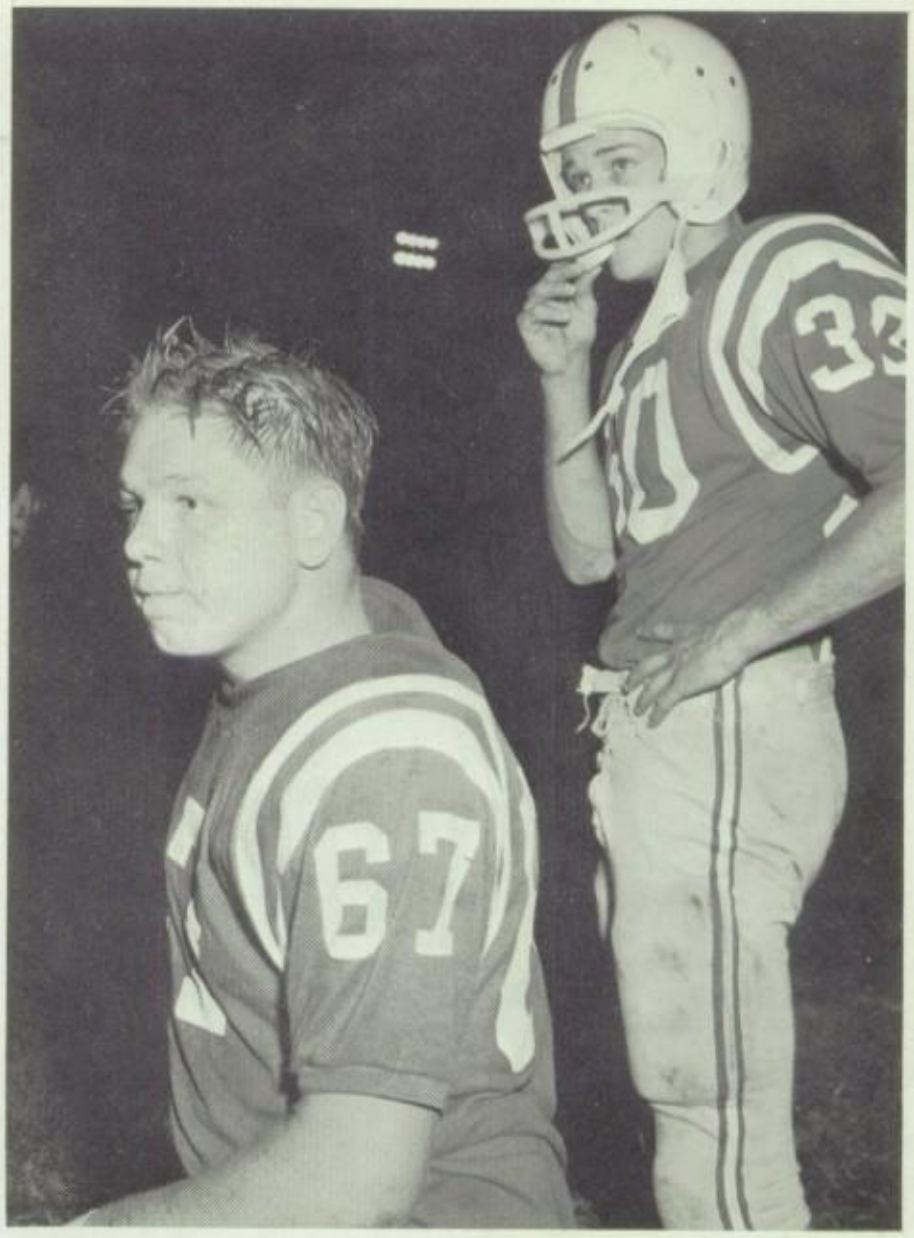
Dogs Evade Defeat

With a score of 42-12, the Lawrence Lions rocketed over the Canines. Capturing the ball twice, Paul Womble ran a 69-yard touchdown and Alonzo Thomas rumbled 48 yards with a fumble recovery.

Traveling to S.M.W., the Bulldogs received another victory, 25-13. Paul Womble carried the ball five times, completed five passes, and scored two touchdowns.

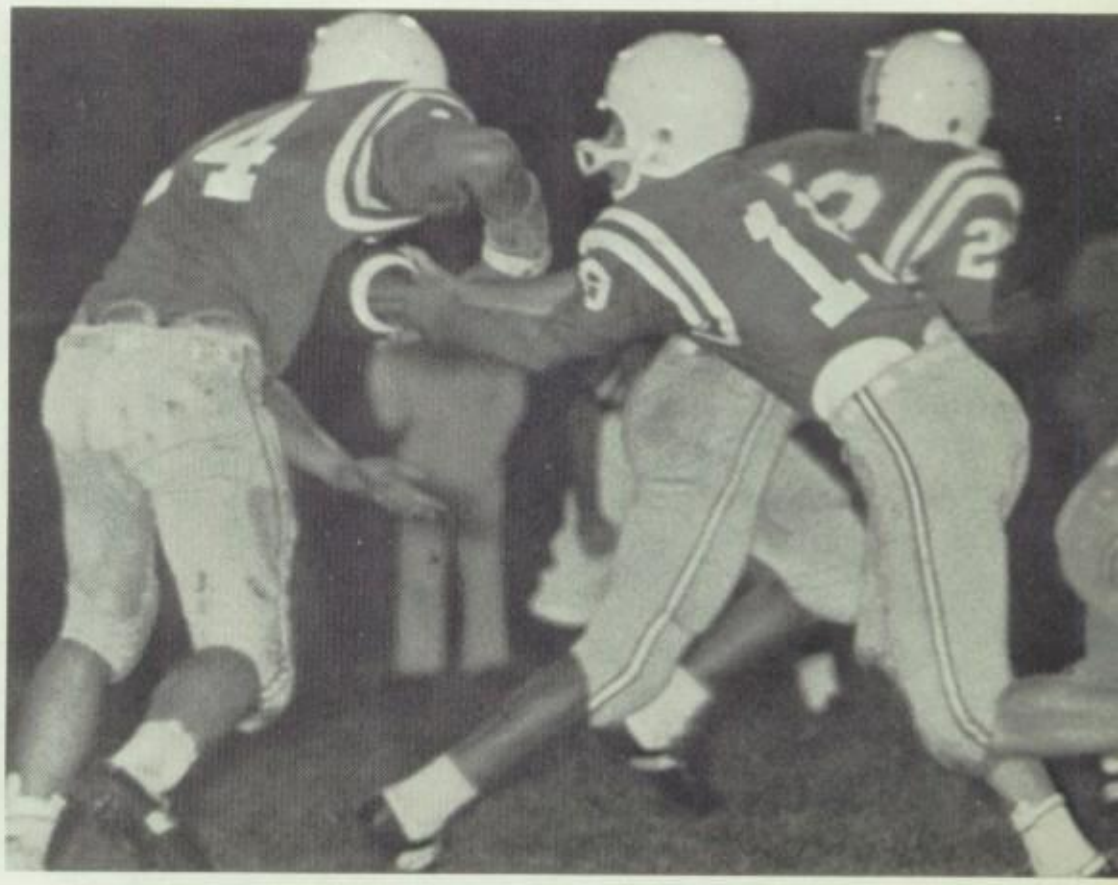
Ending the season, the Bulldogs edged the S.M.S. Raiders, 6-3. Pushing past the Raider line, the Canine Crew found enough room to set up its lone score.

Several Bulldogs gained honors: ALL-AREA-Second Team: Dave Coons, Jim Dukelow, (Dale Fendorf Award winner). Honorable Mention: Alonzo Thomas, Steve Snitker.



Anticipating the final outcome, Frank Chop and Mike Teasley watch the Bulldogs overcome the S.M.S. Raiders.

After a toss from a teammate, Bill Blalock moves downfield for a 24-yard gain in the duel with Topeka.



Faking a play in the Washington game, Paul Womble and Steve Johnson try to gain yardage around the left end.

Reserves Take Five on the Gridiron

Determination, enthusiasm and the will to win were displayed throughout the year by the Reserve Team. In some cases, the outcome of a Varsity game was dependent upon these boys. Mr. Gene Meier and Mr. Spencer King headed the coaching staff, and helped them to finish the season with a 5-2 record.

Realizing that next year they would bear the name of the Varsity Team, the 1966 Reserves showed outstanding teamwork and effort.

Opponents Dominate the Bullpups

In past years, the sophomore Red and White Teams have been the promise of tomorrow, not the fulfillment of today. The boys entered the 1966 season not knowing what the outcome would be, but came out knowing what would be expected of them next year.

Although the Red Team finished the season with 0 wins and 8 losses, Coaches Gary O'dell and Gary Roland were behind them all the way. Under the guidance of Mr. Paul Palmer and Mr. Wayne Hobelman, the White Team finished the season with a 1-6 record.

Both teams felt the rewards of their efforts by the experience they gained this year. Defeat strengthened their characters and boosted their goals to set better records in the future seasons.

Ellis Ends Thirty

Viewing his last victory, Ed Ellis ends the season and his career as head coach as he watches the Canines win over Shawnee-Mission South, 6-3. This game increased his record to 130 victories.

Year Coaching Span

After 30 years of dedicated service to Wyandotte, Head Coach Edgar J. Ellis has chosen to leave the shoulder pads and the pigskins behind.

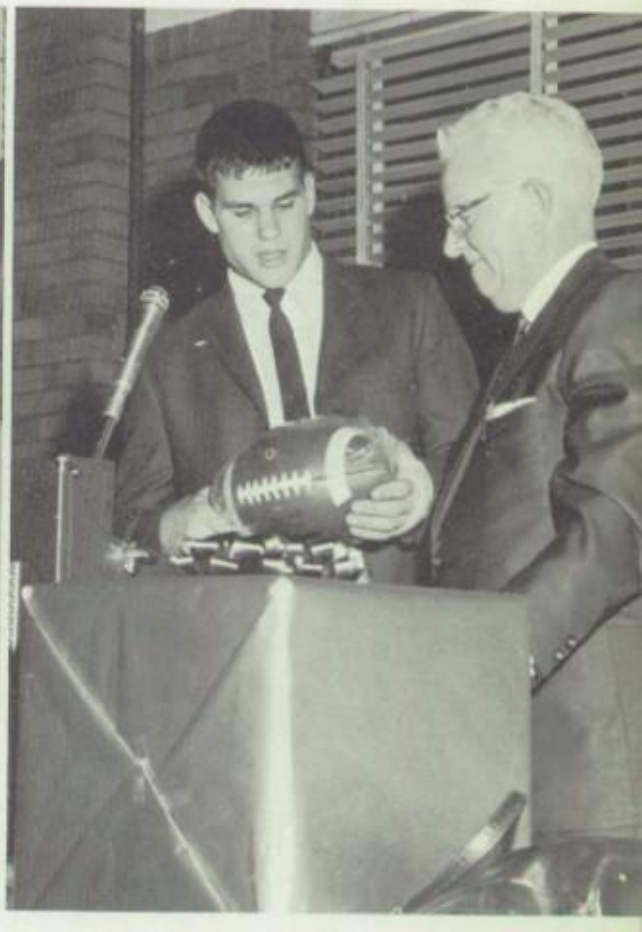
His memorable career started 30 years ago when he came to Wyandotte as head track coach and line coach. After three years in the Navy, he assumed his duties as head football coach.

Leading the Bulldogs to state championships in 1941 and 1951, he also won the City League title for 15 years straight.

Among the notable players he has coached, All-American Ray Evans and KU quarterback Bill Fenton were the most outstanding. According to Coach Ellis, "The biggest kick I ever got was coaching my own son Ed, who is now a senior at KU."

Throughout his career, Coach Ellis has coached 202 games with 130 victories, 15 ties and 57 losses. He has been named Dean of Coaches by the Rotary Club and Coach of the Week several times by the Topeka Capital Journal. Big Red is indebted to him for his many years of loyalty.

The Rockne trophy was one of the many awards won by Ed Ellis during his career as head coach. Mrs. Ellis reads the inscription as Mr. Ellis explains the full meaning.



A portable TV set, a standing ovation and a football with signatures are given to Head Coach Ed Ellis as he sums up 30 years of coaching at the annual Football Banquet.

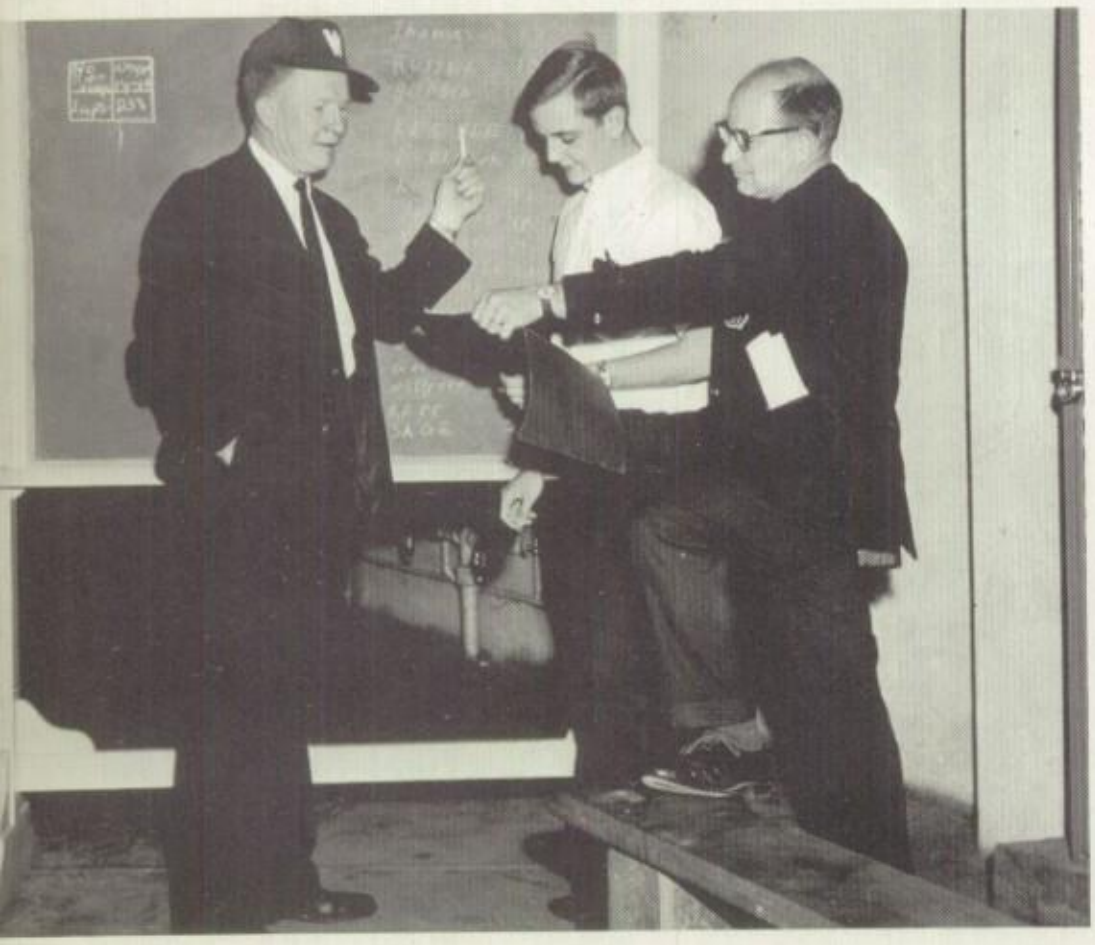
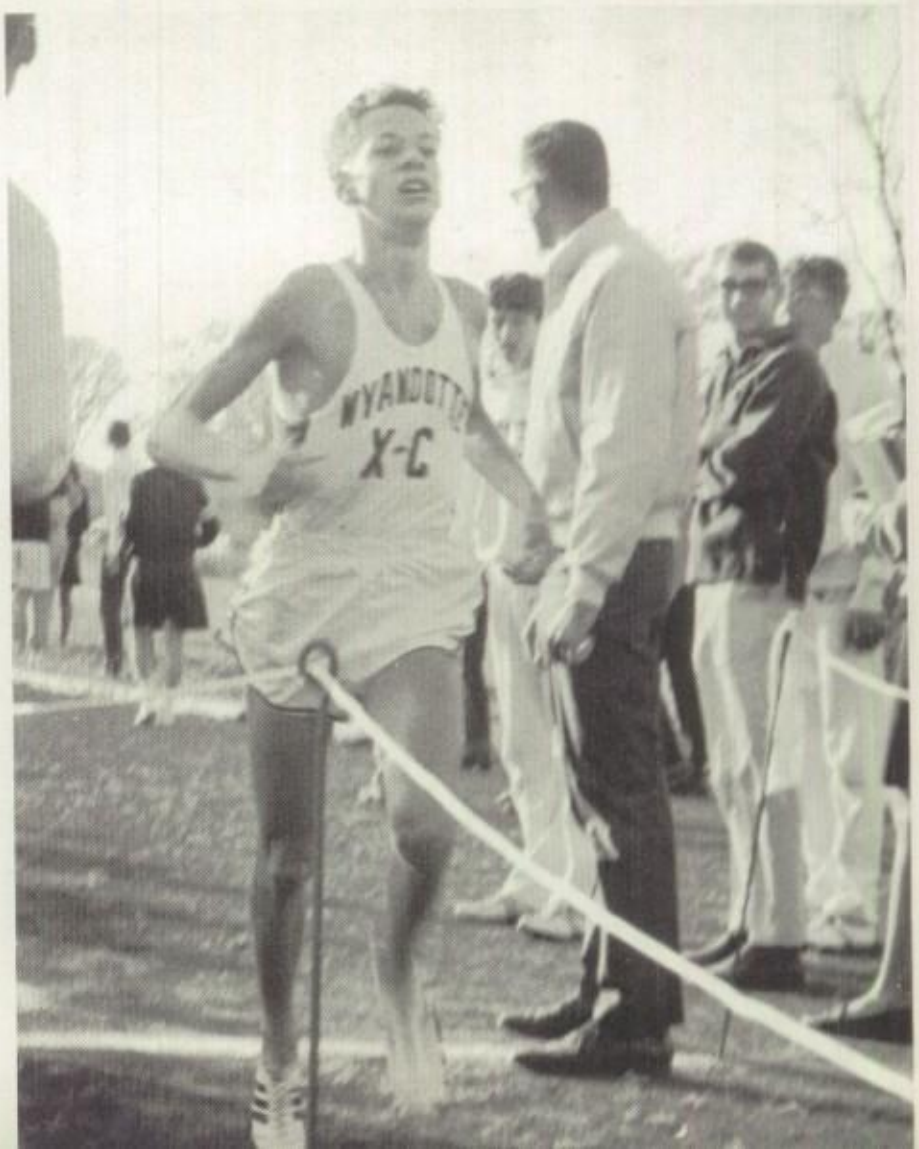
Checking to see that times correspond with the names are Coach Swaim, Mike Martin, manager, and Coach Kyle.



At the Sunflower League Meet, Greg Carpenter darts forward as he wraps up a first place medal.



Harriers Capture Second at State

Finishing the 1966 season with dust trailing behind them and wind on their heels, the Jogdogs took first in the Invitationals, third in the Sunflower League and second in the State Tournament. Greg Carpenter, a junior, led the squad in winning five meets, holding the second fastest 2-mile record in school history, and possessing the Junior and Sophomore class records. Other individual performances were made by senior, Richard Yergovich, by ranking third in the all time 2-mile record.

Heading the 2-milers was Greg Carpenter at 9:32:9. Close behind him were Richard Yergovich, 9:37:0, Tyrone Browne, 9:37:5, Bill Durbin, 10:11:5, Bob Hendee, 10:17:5 and Marvin Willyard, 10:18:0.

Richard Yergovich and Marvin Willyard were chosen as Co-captains and both showed leadership by making the 1966 season complete.

Finishing first in the 100-yard backstroke, Steve Ulmer helps to sink the SM South Raiders, 65-30.

Surging past the Trojans, Bobby Wright reels in first and the Finmen score 60 to Topeka's 35.

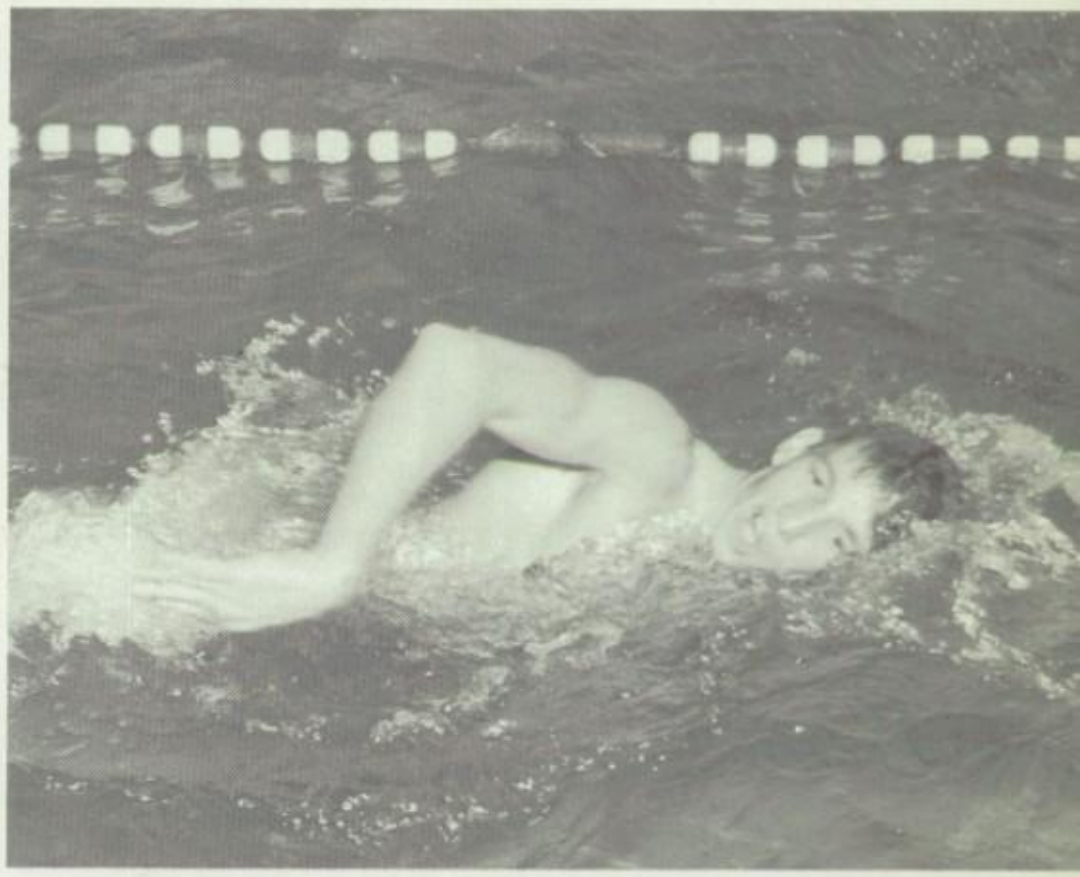
Swimdogs Capture Ten Straight Victories

With an undefeated seasonal record behind them, the Swimdogs surged ahead to capture the Sunflower League Title, breaking numerous records in the process.

Starting off with good timing, the Finmen sank Shawnee Mission West, 72-23. By dunking Wichita North, 49-46, and Washington, 55-40, the Swimdogs added two more victories to their tally.

Gaining momentum, the Bulldogs drowned Topeka West, 53-42. Displaying his breaststroke ability, Bobby Wright took first place at 1:03.2, thus securing pool, school and state best-junior class records.

Capturing both first and second rankings in every event except the 160-yard individual medley and the 100-yard breaststroke, the Finmen splashed Shawnee Mission South under the current by 65-30. While securing first place in six events and attaining a score of 53-42, the Bulldogs swam past Coffeyville, rating this as Wyandotte's sixth straight victory.



Pulling way out in front, Greg Karnaze finishes first and helps Wyandotte splash Washington, 55-40.

Rising for a gasp of air during the 100-yard breaststroke, Rob Castor helps to drown the Wildcats, 55-40.

Finmen Take Sunflower

After diving into the 60-yard freestyle competition against SM East, Steve Harris completed a senior class record at :29.0. The Swimdogs won 54-41.

Adding to their victories, the Water Warriors sank Topeka Central, 60-35, and Wichita South, 59-35. Ending the 400-yard freestyle event at 4:05.2, a school and junior class record, Bobby Wright helped to finish the meet with SM North, 62-33.

Pool, school, class and league records broken this year were: 160-yard individual medley and 100-yard breaststroke by Bobby Wright; 100-yard butterfly and 200-yard freestyle by Steve Ulmer; 100-yard backstroke by Rob Castor; 160-yard individual medley and 400-yard freestyle by Cliff Foster; 60-yard freestyle by Steve Harris; diving by Ray Powers. Other records were set in the medley relay by Castor, Kerr, Harris and Speer, and in the 400-yard freestyle by Harris, Kerr, Powers and Speer.

A 54-41 victory over Shawnee Mission East brings a surge of excitement to the swim team. As a result, the Finmen give Coach Emil Haar a fond dip into the pool. This was the seventh victory for the swim team.

Starting off the 400-yard freestyle relay, David Sample competes for first place as Mr. Jackson times him.

Displaying his diving ability, Fred Smith proves he has what it takes as he helps flood the Indians, 62-33.

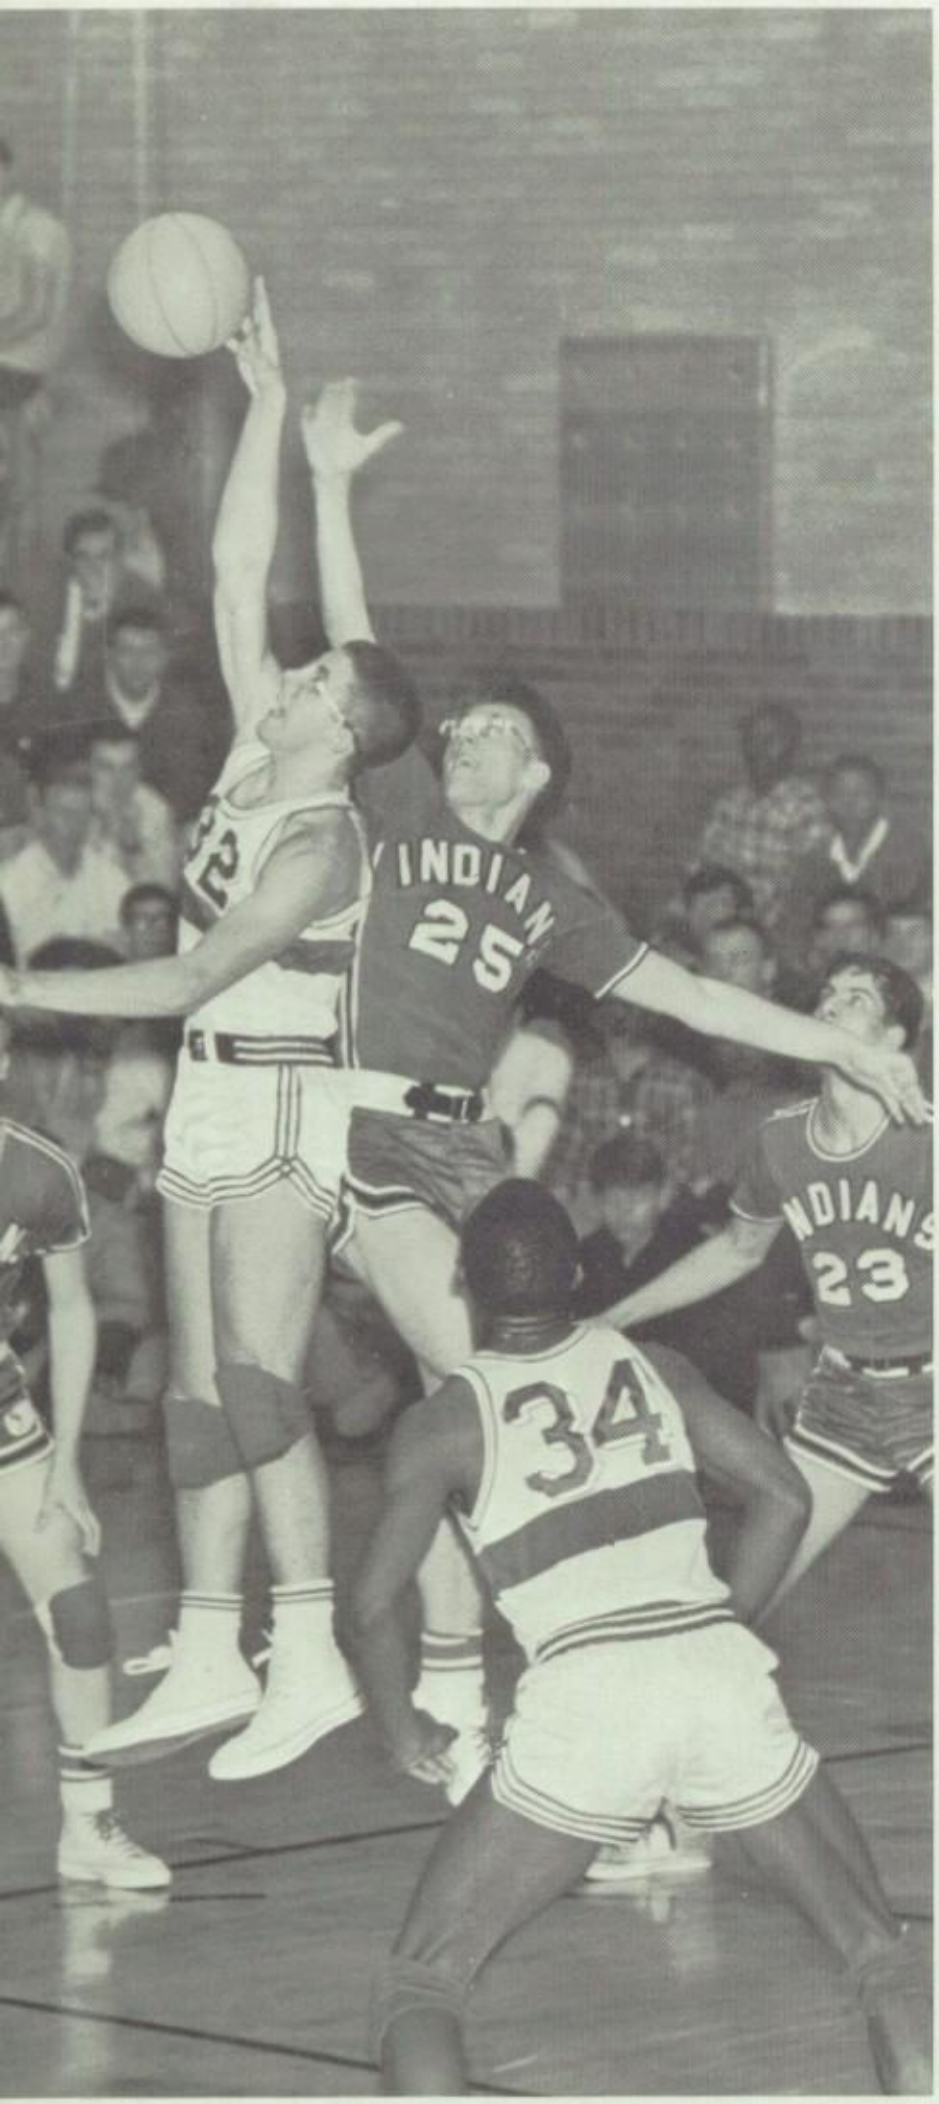
Russell Rams in 46 to Mark New Record



Fierce competition between John Poindexter and an SMN opponent during a tip-off leads Alonzo Thomas to capture the ball.

Determination, experience, height and speed made up the 1966-67 basketball team as the season opened with a smashing victory over the Topeka Trojans, 70-57. The season opener for the Red and White was a long, long step toward their 14th straight Sunflower League crown. The game marked a new record at Wyandotte with Pierre Russell ramming in 46 points.

Taking on the Wildcats, with a 72-50 victory, the Bulldogs broke in their crisp new red, white and blue uniforms. Also they broke in three new sophomores, Dick Shoults, Walter Williams and Ronnie Russell, getting five buckets and seven rebounds out of them.

The double-barreled front-court attack of Louis Dunn and Pierre Russell gunned down Shawnee-Mission West, 71-57.

Fencing in Lawrence's high powered Lions, the playmaking and pointmaking of Tom Preston gave the Canines a big lift to a 69-58 decision.

Grabbing eagerly, Alonzo Thomas takes sole possession of the ball intended for an opponent, in the Ward-Wyandotte game as Pierre Russell and Louis Dunn watch.

Bulldogs Topple

Giving Argentine a first-quarter lead, Wyandotte flexed enough muscle in the middle two quarters to break the Mustangs 67-45.

With Pierre Russell snapping open a sluggish first half, the Canines bounced SM South 61-44. Louis Dunn and John Poindexter added depth to Wyandotte's attack with 16 and 9 points, respectively.

Taking command of the backboards, Pierre Russell pitched in 21 points and led Wyandotte to a 60-46 victory over the Ward Cyclones.

Hammering SM East, 59-30, the Bulldogs senior flash, Pierre Russell, edged in 21 points and 20 rebounds. This ran the Canines loop record to 5-0.

Alonzo Thomas and John Poindexter, a brace of hard-driving juniors, took up the scoring slack for their senior teammates and lifted Wyandotte to a 63-50 victory over SM North.

After setting up a play with a line-drive pass, Alonzo Thomas arches a shot over an SMN opponent while Pierre Russell moves in awaiting a rebound.

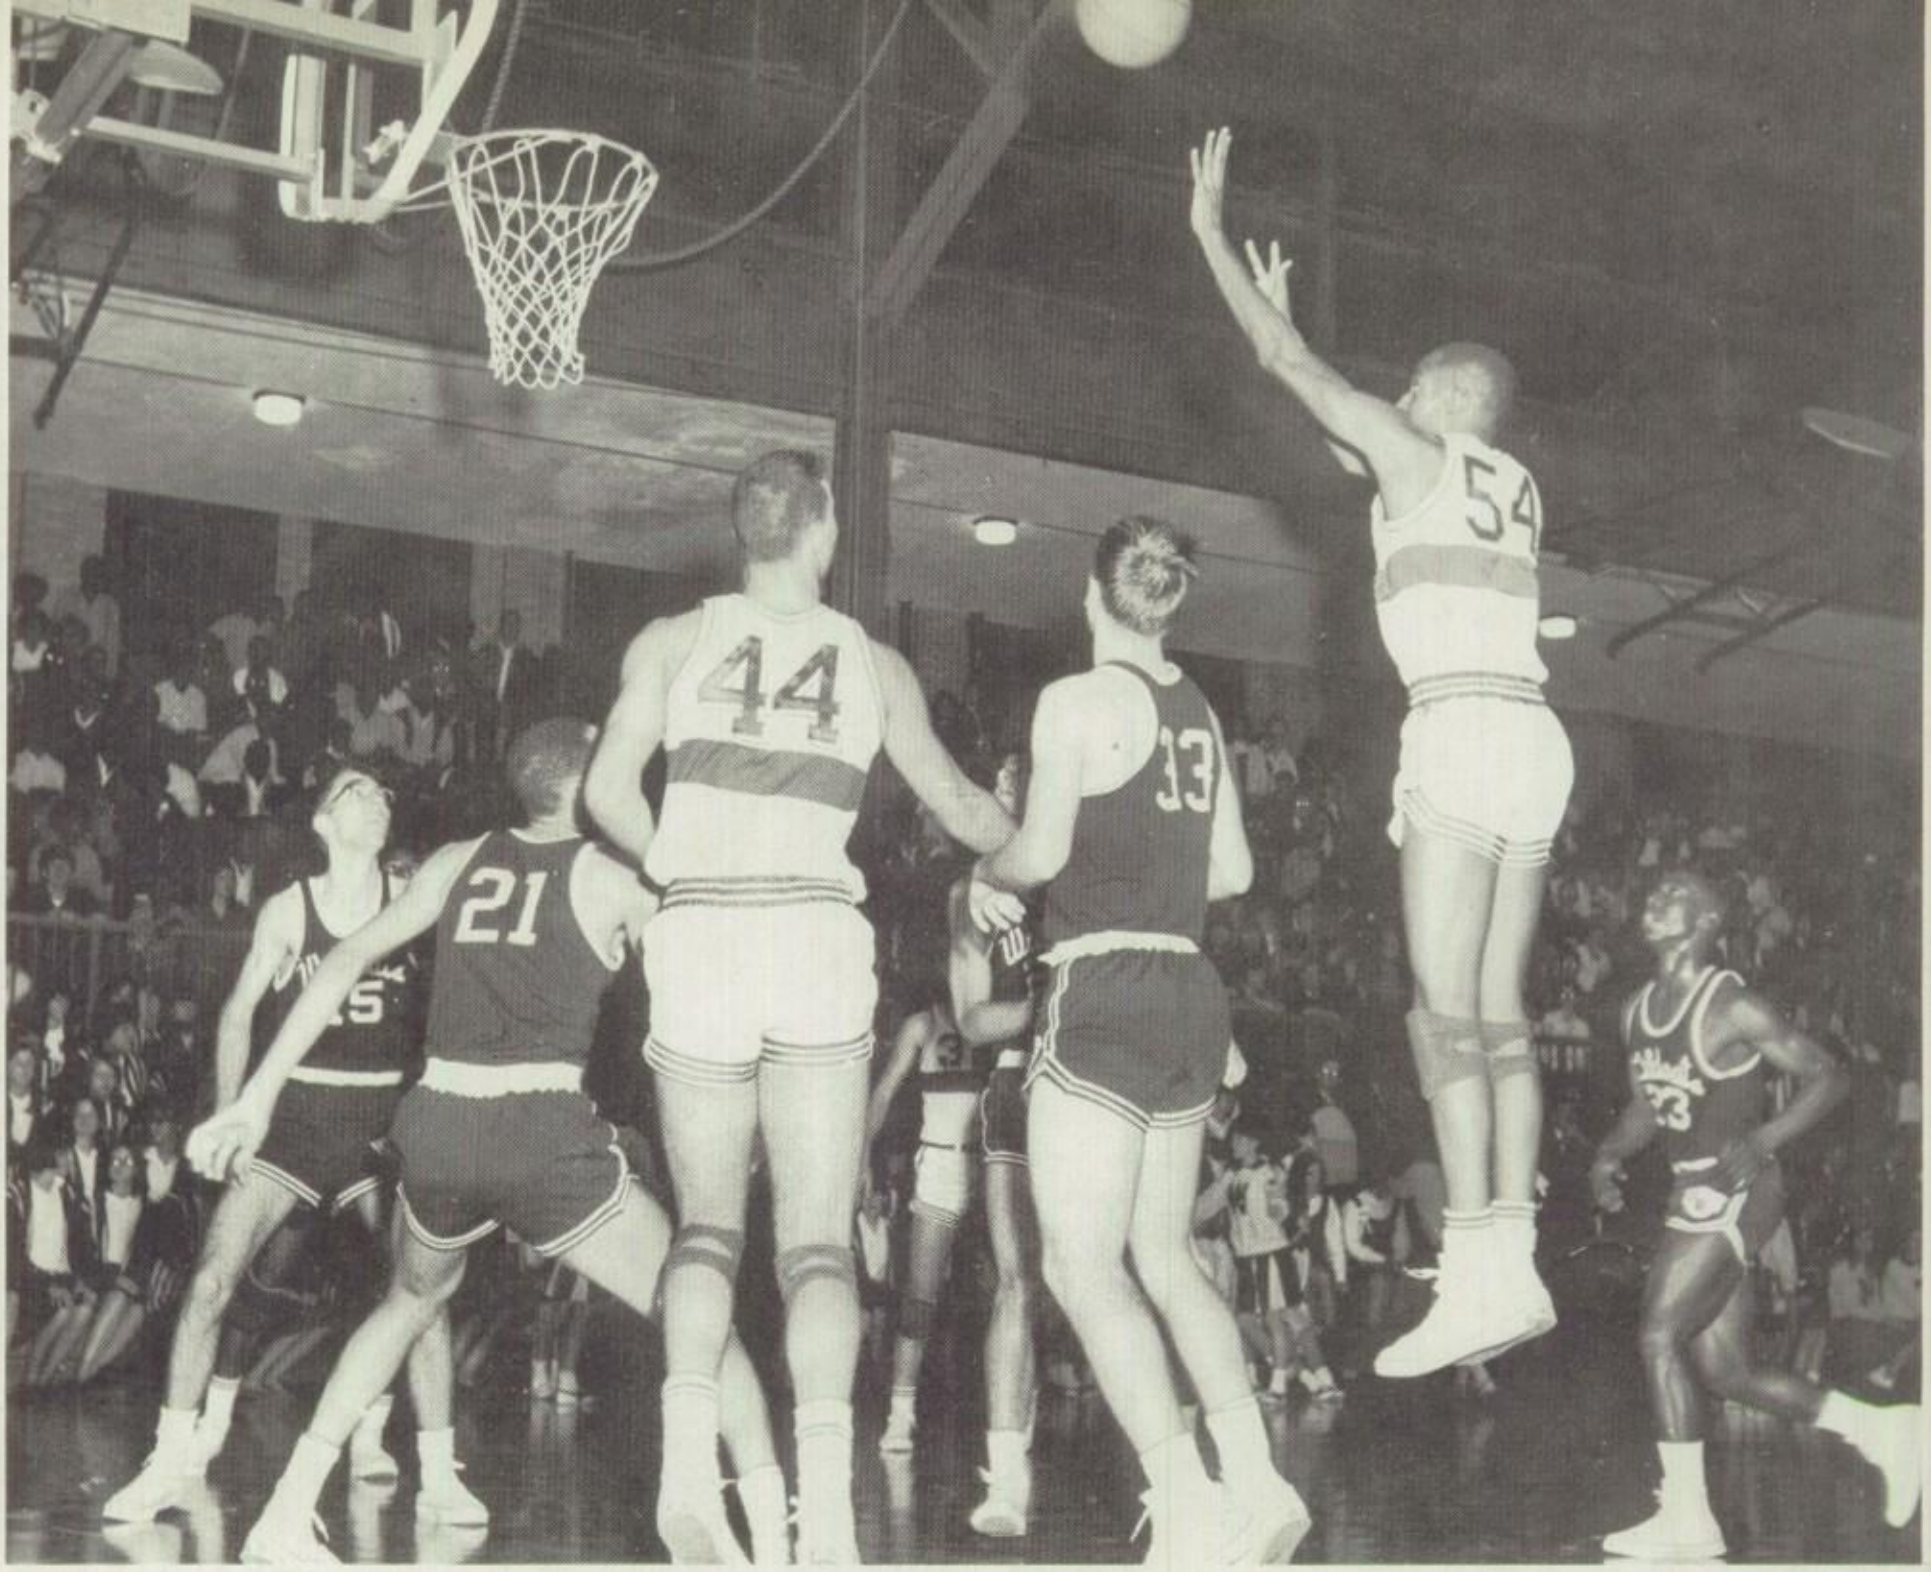
Numerous jobs were assigned to this year's managers, Larry Martindale and Dick Morrison. Larry packs jerseys for the Bulldogs to travel and Dick sets the nameboard.

Instructions before a game are given as the Bulldogs listen closely to be sure they hear everyone of them.

Clearing the boards, Louis Dunn and Pierre Russell assist each other in grabbing a rebound against Ward.



Forward, Walter Williams, fires a jump shot against Washington, adding two points to the score while Pierre Russell guards a fighting Wildcat waiting for a rebound.

Canines Capture Trophy from Wichita

Traveling to Wichita, Wyandotte burst past Kapaun, 65-34, and into the finals of the Wichita North basketball tournament. While Alonzo Thomas was getting the Canines off on the right foot, Pierre Russell was the game's leader in points and rebounds. Playing Wichita the next night, the unbeaten Bulldogs defeated Wichita North, 73-66, for first place in the Invitational Tournament.

Wyandotte switched from the one-man gang to the multiple offense, but the result was the same: another victory over Topeka, this time by the score of 83-52.

Wildcat strategy did not work when the Canines defeated Washington, 70-52. Louis Dunn was the only Bulldog to meet the fate of Wildcat intentions, but Walter Williams replaced him to score an identical game, both holding 4 field goals and 5 charity tosses.

Topeka West tried to trap the Bulldogs with a slow-down game but winded up on the short end of a 55-37 score. Loaded with three fouls in the first half, forward Pierre Russell continued rugged rebounding and scored 18 points. He had pressure taken off of him by Tom Preston, guard.

Bulldogs Finish Season with 17 Wins, 1 Loss

Traveling to SM West, Wyandotte won its 15th straight game. Pierre Russell's 39 points and the playmaking of Alonzo Thomas provided a spark that powered the Bulldogs to a 73-56 win over the Vikings.

Wichita East's last-second stall, backfired with a back-court violation and paved the way for Wyandotte's 53-51 trump over the Aces. Louis Dunn led the Bulldog charge by pumping in 10 from the field and 2 at the line.

Ending the game with 78-55 left on the scoreboard, the Canines dumped SM East. The game was determined when the Bulldogs' secondary court replaced the starting five.

With one last performance, SM North ended Wyandotte's unbeaten season and Sunflower domination by beating the Bulldogs, 59-53. Pierre Russell muscled his way to 28 points and set a league record for scoring average.

A purring Wildcat opponent looks on as Jim Dukelow drives in and readies the ball for another two points.

Senior, Louis Dunn, fights off Ward players to nab a tip-off to help win the Ward-Wyandotte game, 60-46.

Bulldogs Claim

9th State Title

With a 19-1 season, the Bulldogs entered the Regional Tournament at SM-North seeking their 14th Regional Title in the past 15 years. By downing SM-West, 69-52, in the first game and SM-North, 66-57, in the final game, the Canines earned another Regional trophy and a berth in the State Tournament at Lawrence.

Opening with a blazing victory over Independence, 69-47, the Bulldog court crew, led by Pierre Russell, Louis Dunn and John Poindexter, exhibited their strength. By dumping Ward, 50-38, Wyandotte recorded its 21st victory in 22 games. The Canines claimed their 9th State Title as they crushed McPherson, 56-41, and Pierre Russell was unanimously voted outstanding player of the tournament. Thus, another tradition was upheld as "Big Red" returned to the throne of State Championship.

"We're No. 1" were the chants from the team as they were greeted by the excited Bulldog crowd after winning the State Championship.

The 1967 State Champions proudly display the First Place trophy to the Bulldog boosters.

Reserves Move over 15 Opponents

Whipping every team but Ward, the 1966-67 Reserve Team turned in an impressive 15-1 record. Besides lettermen like Alonzo Thomas and John Poindexter, Dave Nichols, Dick Shoults and Joel Heider divided their talents and played both for the Reserve and Varsity squads. Coached by Mr. Don Upson, the Bulldogs experienced an eventful season, which prepared them for Varsity action in 67-68.

Bullpups Take 15 from Opponents

Hard work at nightly practices, spirit and enthusiasm made up the 1966-67 Sophomore basketball team as they wound up their season with a successful record of 15 wins and 1 loss.

Taking hints from both Mr. Paul Palmer and Mr. Bill Young, Theodis Heard, Charles Easley, John Storms and Barney Collins proved to be big gunners for Wyandotte throughout the season.

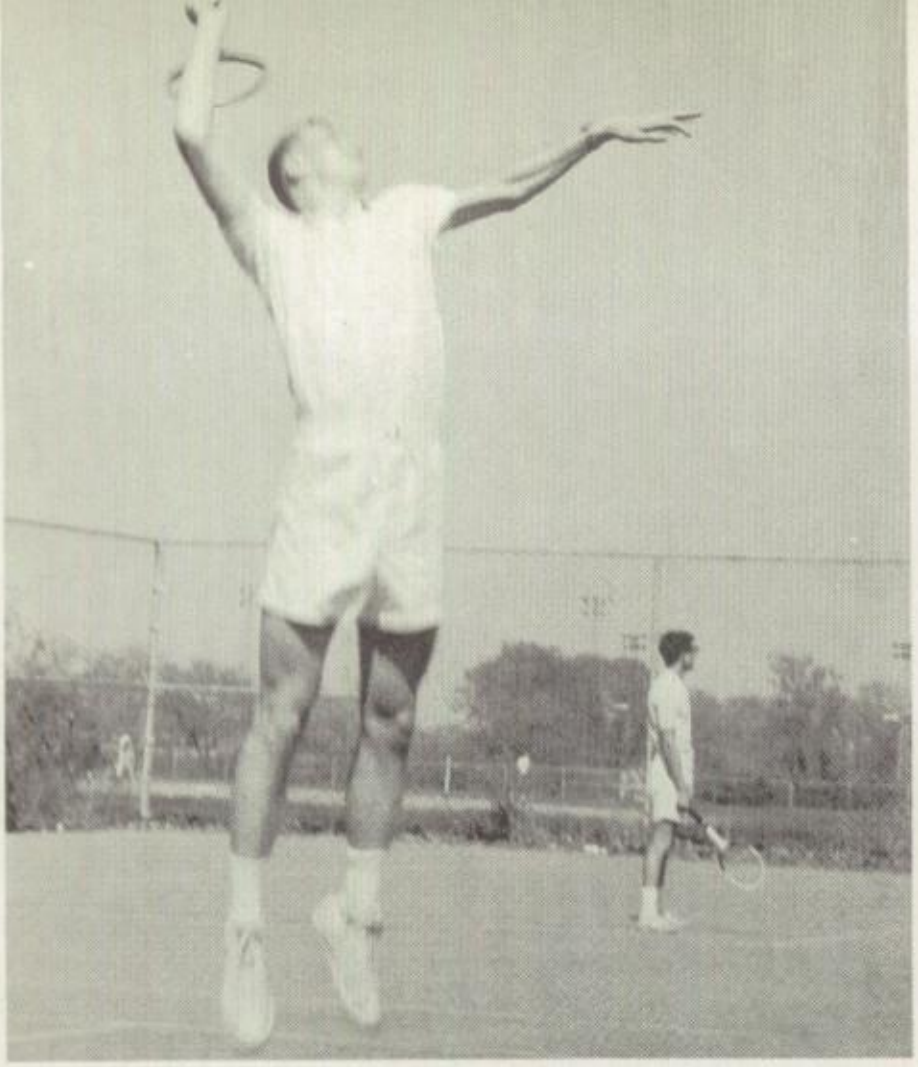
Golf and Tennis Men



Striving for perfection, Steve Harris practices an over-head slam in preparation for the first tennis meet.

Beginning his first season as tennis coach, Mr. Ashley Elbl stated, "Our somewhat inexperienced tennis team will look to returning lettermen Steve Harris and David Sample to provide leadership and show the younger boys how hard they have to work. Although Sunflower League competition in tennis is tough, we are looking forward to a successful season."

Composed of two seniors and four juniors, the team began its practices in mid-February. Headed by Co-Captains Steve Harris and David Sample, the boys trained by running, doing calisthenics and practicing serves and returns. Through five single meets, one quadrangular match, the Sunflower League meet and the regional and state tournaments, the Netmen displayed true Bulldog spirit.

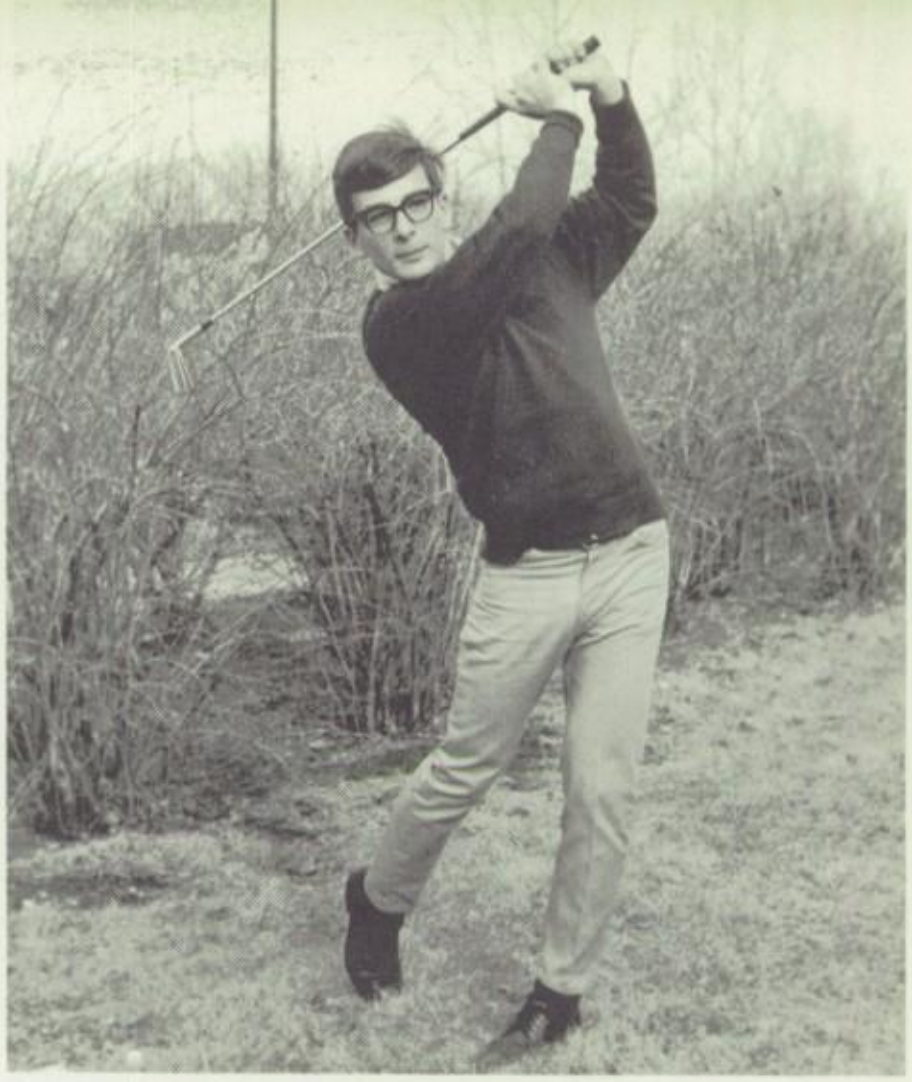
Swing into Action

With teamwork, enthusiasm, hard practice sessions and skilled golfers, the 1967 Golf Team swung into action. Returning this year as lettermen were Bill Brown and Cliff Foster, co-captains, and Gary Dye and Rodney Padelli. Following close behind the lettermen were Mark Berquist and Dave Nichols.

Beginning the season in early March, the boys found that the best practice was just to go out and play, with some touching up on a few rusty techniques inbetween. As Coach Paul Starbuck advised and developed the team, the golfers fought through seven meets, the Sunflower League meet and the regional and state tournaments. This was Mr. Starbuck's twelfth year as coach of Wyandotte's Golf Squad as he anticipated another successful season.



With a giant swing, Cliff Foster sends the ball sailing towards the seventh hole in a league match.

GOLF TEAM: Cliff Foster, Mark Berquist, Gary Dye, Dave Nichols, Coach Paul Starbuck and Bill Brown.

Matmen Experience First Year

Representing Wyandotte for the first time since prewar years, the interscholastic wrestling team completed the season with 4 wins and 1 loss. On November 29, an intra-squad match was held in the boys gym. "The meet had a dual purpose," stated Coach Larson. "It acquainted the students with wrestling and it chose the Varsity squad." The White team finished with 28 points and the Red team finished with 23 points.

In his first year of coaching, Mr. Kenneth Larson succeeded in organizing the squad. Assisting him was Mr. Gary O'Dell, who was also new at the job.

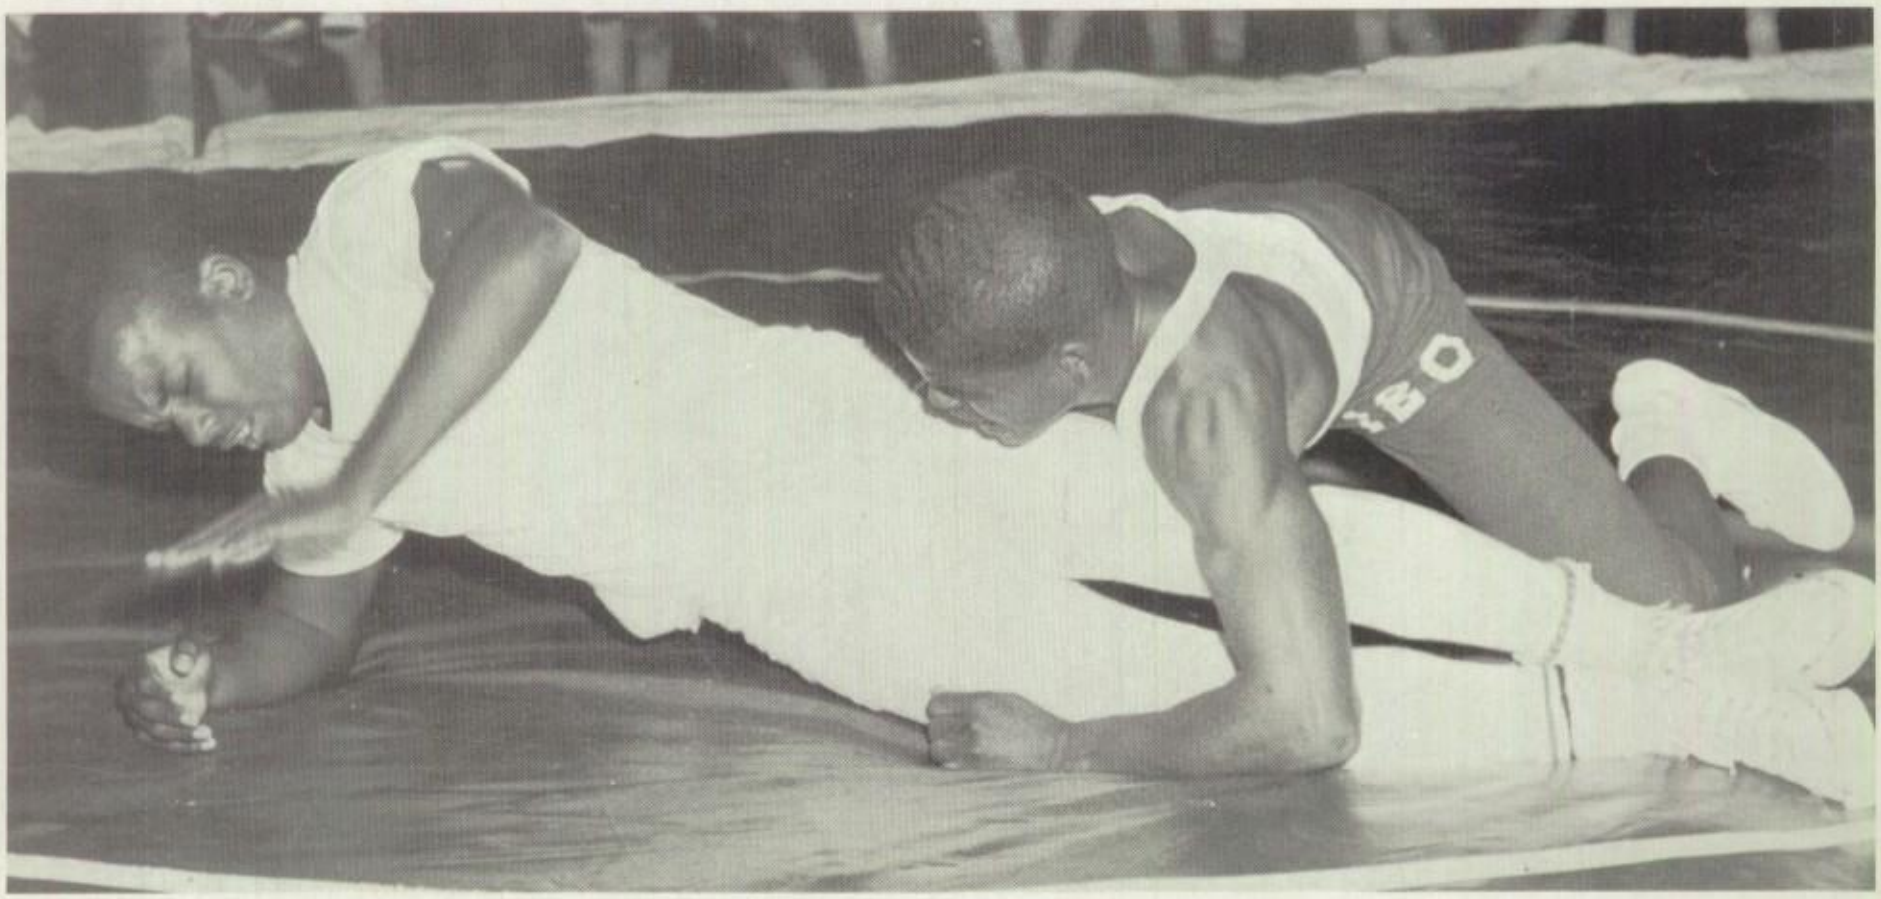
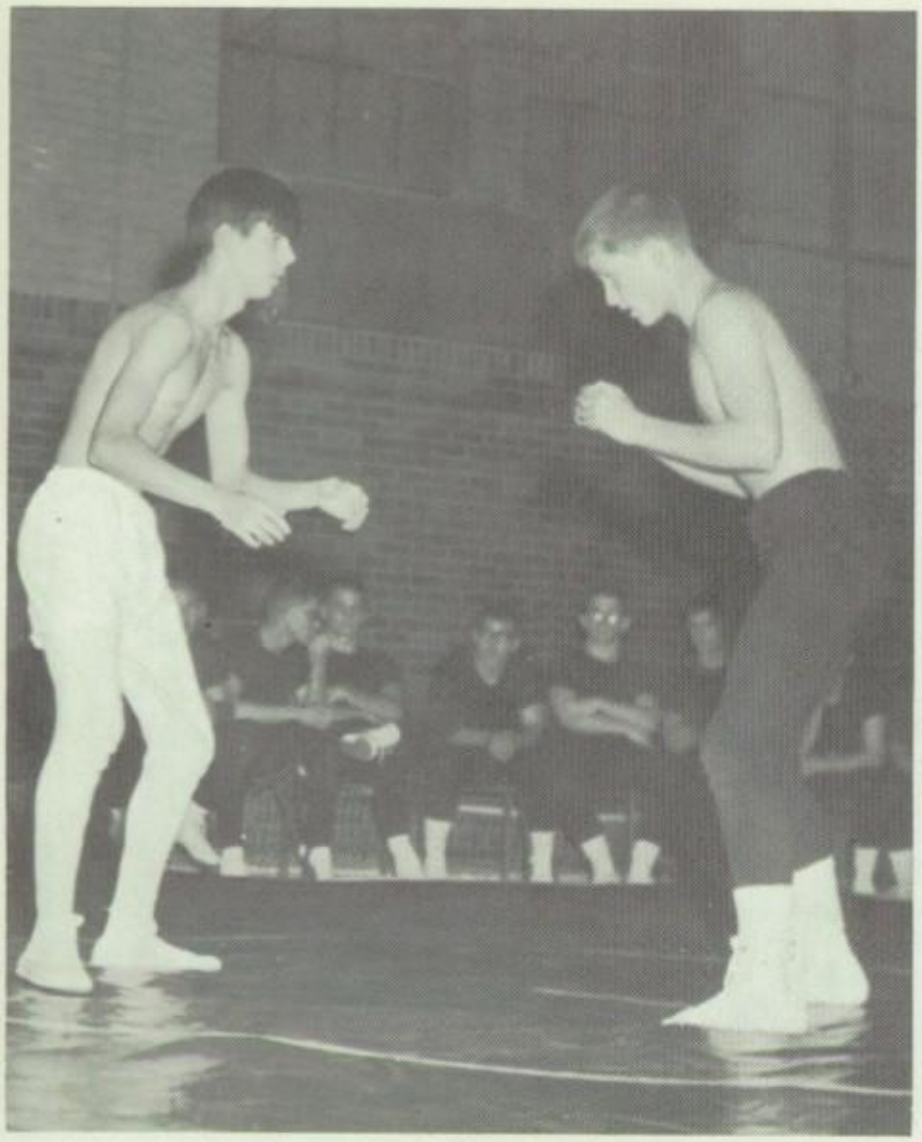
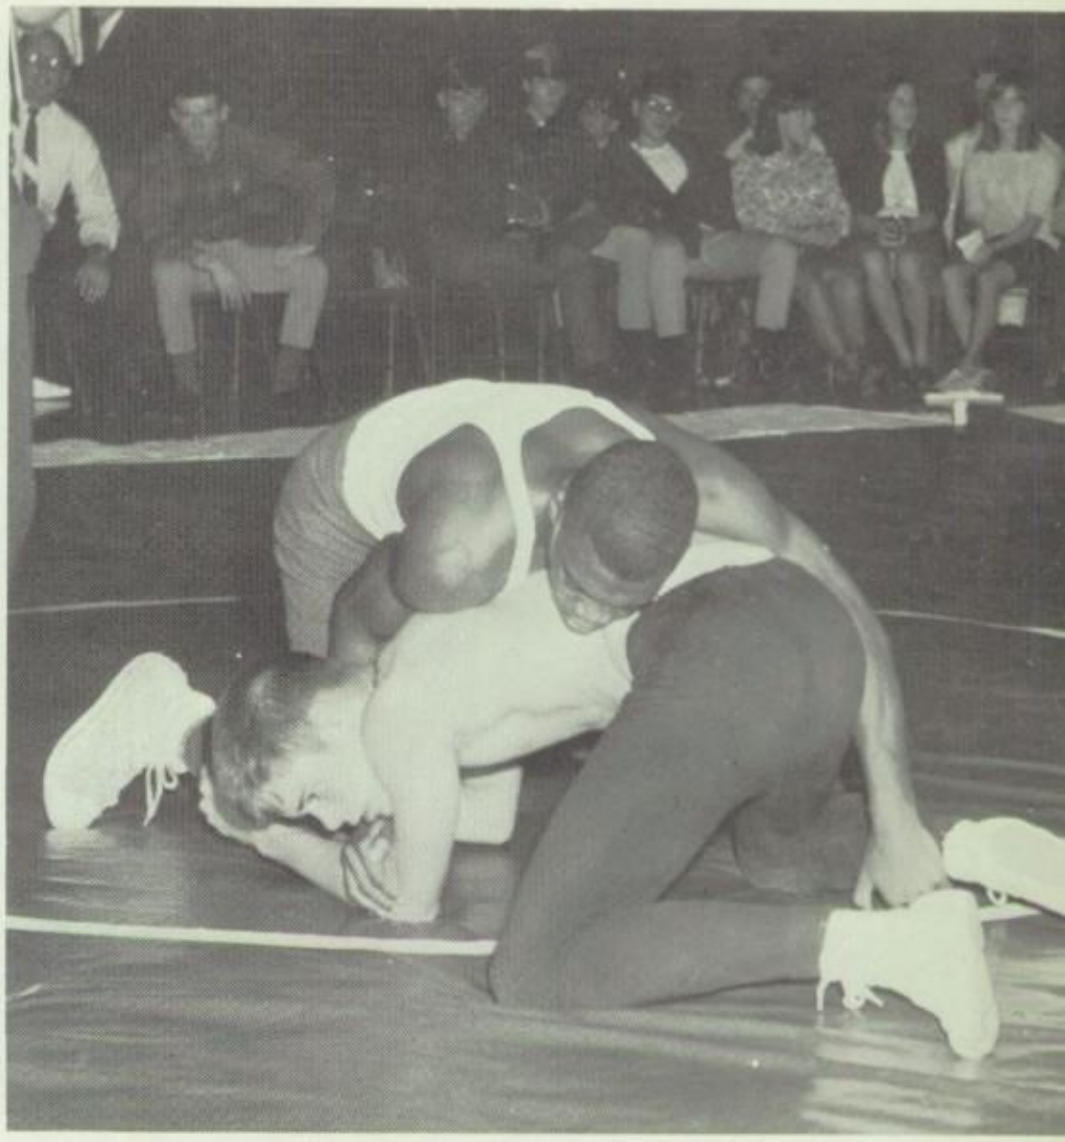
Encountering a switch by his Leavenworth opponent, Jodie Davis tries to maneuver to a better position. By using a head lock and an arm lock, Jodie pinned him down, thus leading Wyandotte to a 38-14 victory.

During the intra-squad match, Ed Tucker moves in after slamming Herbert Matthews on the mat, pinning his shoulders down for three seconds in order to gain three points for the Red Team.





Starting the match, Dale Austin tries to misguide his opponent, so that later in the meet it would lead to the pinning of the Rosedale wrestler.



While a Lawrence wrestler works towards a reversal, Jodie Davis takes hold, turns him over and pins him down.

Bulldog Teamwork

In an attempt to establish championships for the '67 season, the Batmen combined their forces and ran onto the dirt field in preparation for a brisk season. Portraying their vigor and enthusiasm, the Baseball team began their training in late February. Using the "iron man" as pitcher, the boys touched up their batting techniques and continued their routine practices on the field with the help of Coach Ed Ellis and Assistant Coach Leroy Hedstrom.

Selection of tri-captains for the 1967 season were based on the outstanding individual performances which suggested leadership abilities displayed by Danny Rightmire, Stan Gatton and Paul Womble. Lyle White, Sonny Clark and Jim Dukelow, all lettermen, lent strong support.

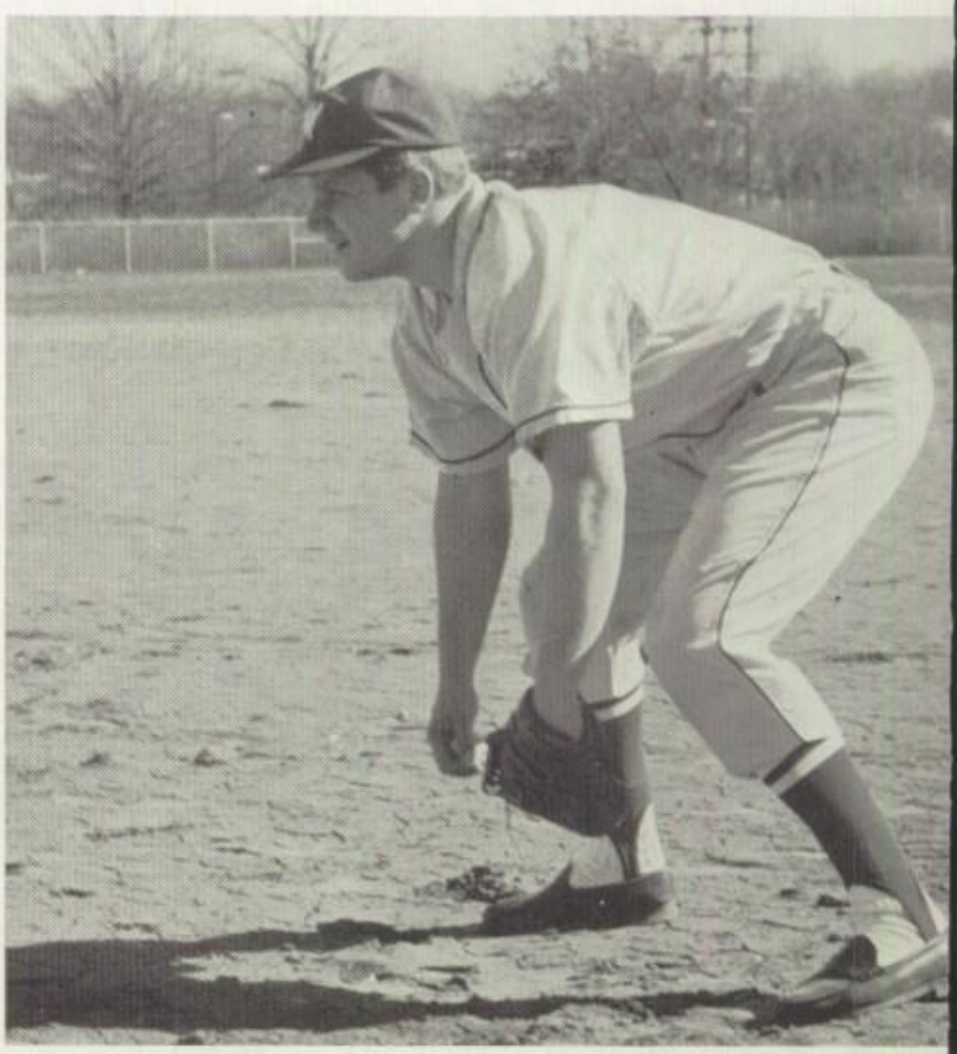
Returning to the bench after another homerun, Paul Womble smiles as he receives hearty congratulations.

After throwing a fast ball, Paul Womble causes a De LaSalle Batter to strike out in the third inning.

BASEBALL COACHES AND CAPTAINS: Coach Leroy Hedstrom, Danny Rightmire, Paul Womble, Stan Gatton, Coach Ed Ellis.

Just as a Ward Cyclone nears second base, Ellis Rankin catches a ball as it is thrown from the outfield.



Anticipating which way to move in order to catch the ball, Danny Rightmire watches a Sumner batter.

'67 Batmen Join New Border League

Heading toward third, shortstop, Paul Womble receives clearance to score his homerun.

Joining a new Border League, the 1967 Batmen entered the season with hopes of defeating every team in it. It included teams such as Pem Day, Ward, Washington and De LaSalle.

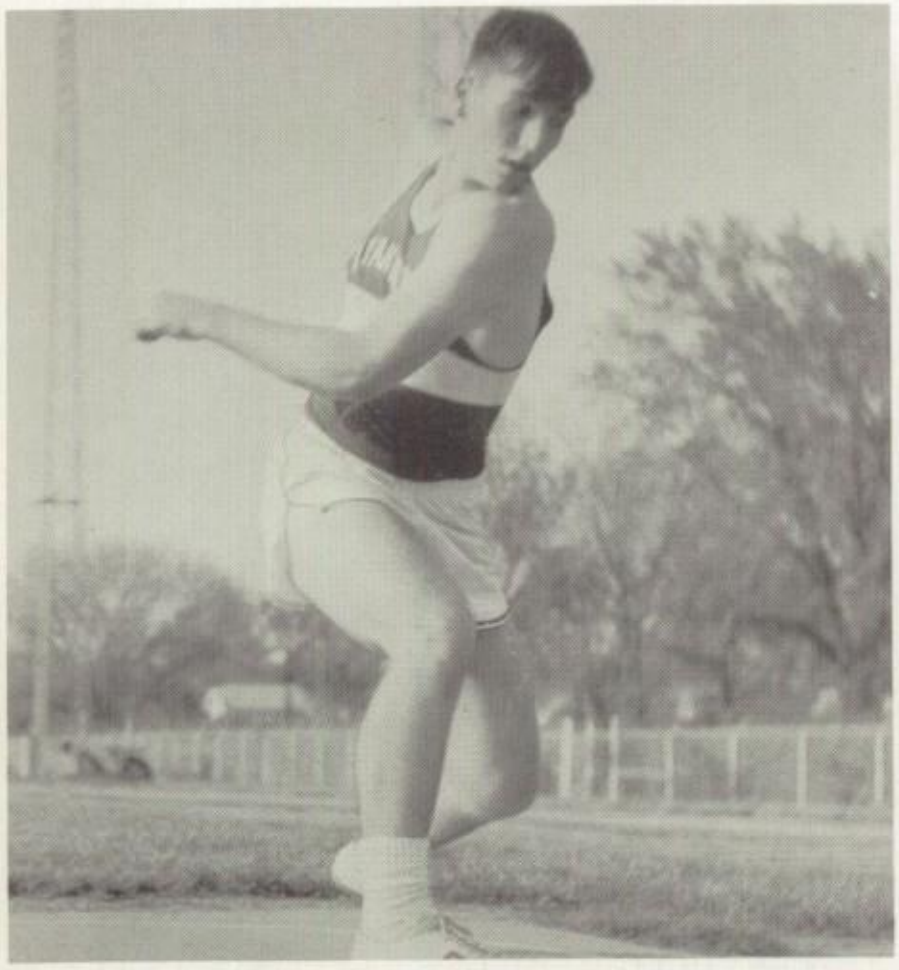
The '66 Canines polished off the season by winning 12 of their 16 games. Because of frequent fielding lapses and the lack of timely hitting, Coach Ed Ellis' Canines finished third in State. With 7 state championships behind them, the Bulldogs had their goal set out for them.

With weaknesses in both pitchers and catchers, the Bulldogs had Mike Baker, Kenny Miller and Dick Shoults as prospects for pitchers and Ellis Rankin and Sonny Clark filling the position of catchers. A stout offense and defense, one of Wyandotte's trademarks, was ready for action. As stated by Coach Ellis, "Paul Womble will be an outstanding ball player." Classified under him were Joel Heider, Jim Kohl, Lee Coiner and Bob Chambers.

Assisting Coach Ellis in advising and directing the boys was Mr. Leroy Hedstrom.

As he slides into home, Danny Rightmire is attacked by Sonny Clark who anticipates an out for the Red Team. This incident took place in the top of the second inning during the intra-squad game.

Two-Mile Run is Added to Track Events

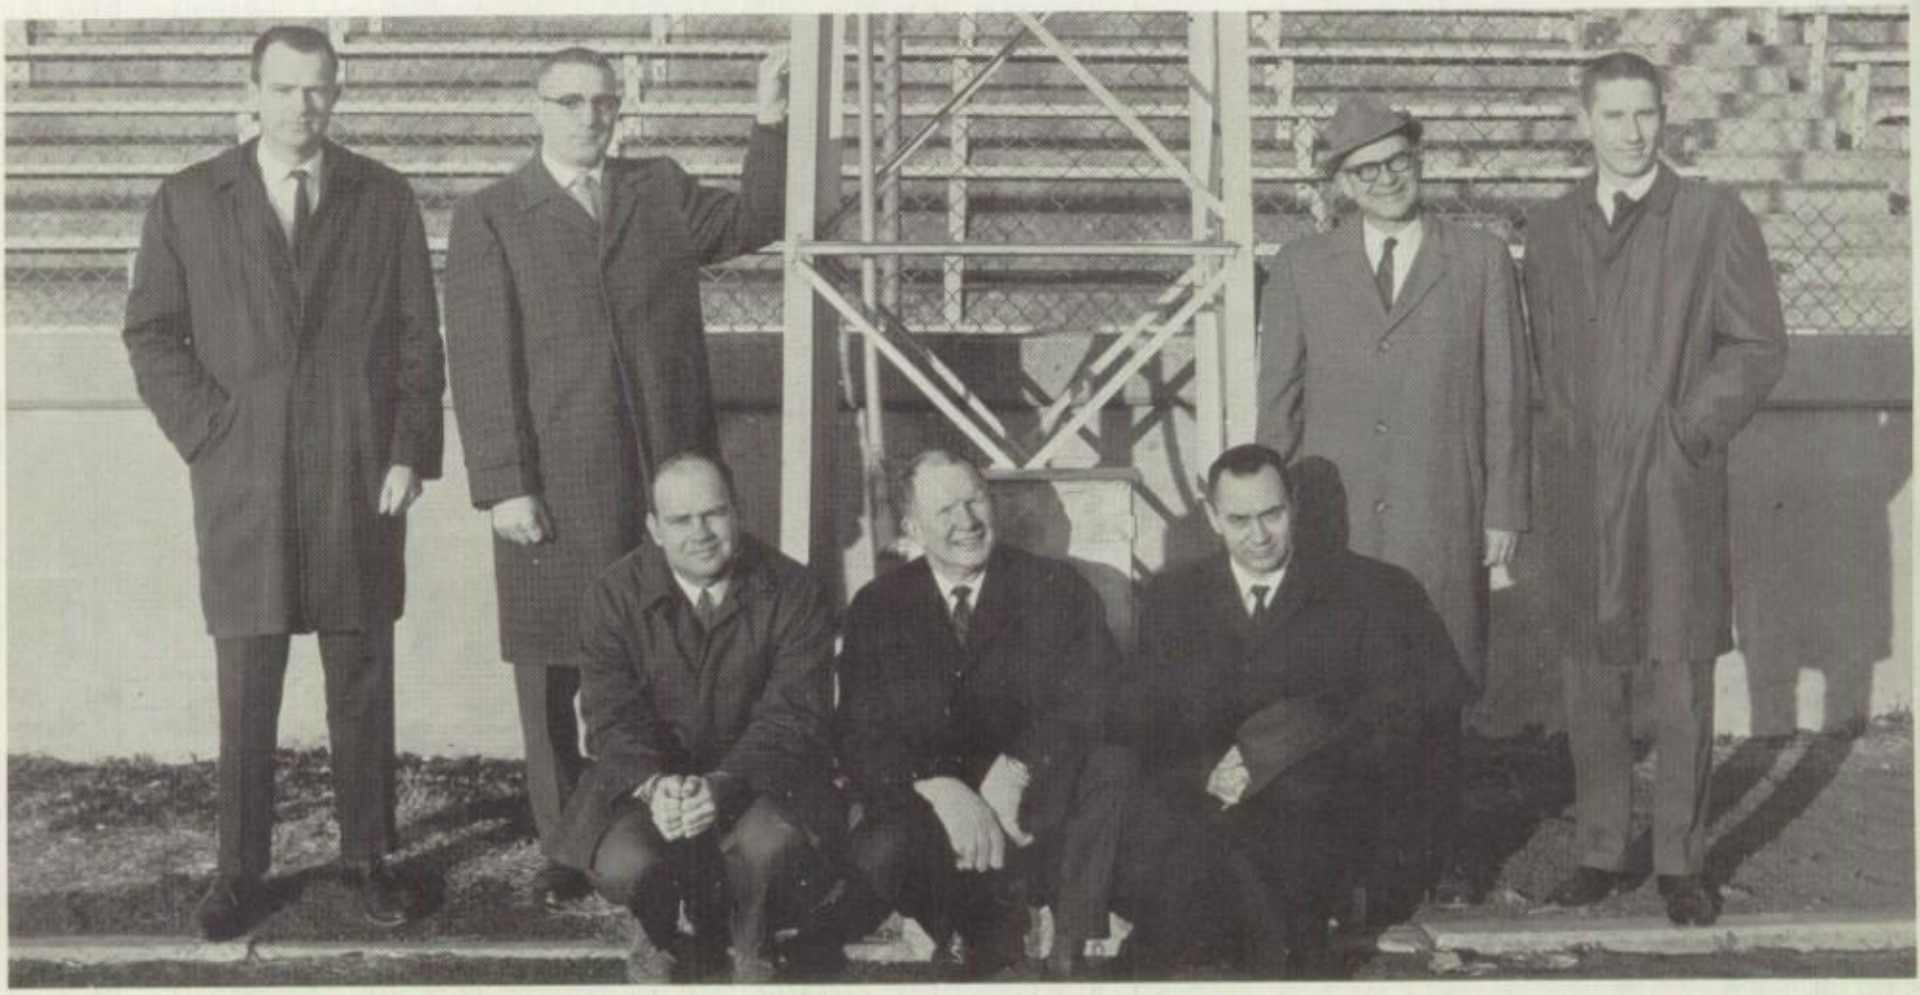


Throwing the shot put, Larry Keeble winds up with a giant swing and releases it with a mighty thrust.

As the 1967 Harriers began training with nightly practices and weight workouts to prepare them for their oncoming opponents, Coach Swaim's words, "Our work is cut out for us," suddenly became real.

As the runners got under way, they met up with a new event, the two-mile run. Contributing strength along this route were Greg Carpenter, Richard Yergovich, Bob Hendee, Ernest Galbraith and David Knight. Tri-Captains Tyrone Browne, Richard Yergovich and Pierre Russell kept the boys in the spirit with their leadership and enthusiasm.

Stimulated by his 1966 state indoor championship, Pierre Russell along with Alonzo Thomas, John Sutton and Ellis Robinson increased their development and skill as pole vaulters. Leaping into the air and over the bar were high jumpers Alonzo Thomas and Charles Sage. Running to gain momentum and ending ankle deep in the sand were Vernon Braswell, Tyrone Browne and Greg Bankhead, broad jumpers.



1966-67 TRACK TEAM COACHES: Mr. Wayne Hobellman, Mr. Clyde Strimple, Mr. Charles Redfield, Mr. Francis Swaim, Mr. Lyle Ramsey, Mr. Don Kyle, Mr. Spencer King.

Displaying his technique as he crosses the bar, Pierre Russell flies through the air at 11 feet, 4 inches.

Gaining power with a long run, Alonzo Thomas leaps high into the air and lands 18 feet, 3 inches later.

Highjumping at 5 feet, 6 inches, Alonzo Thomas displays his skill as he crosses the bar.

Cinderdogs Display Technique and Skill

As the '67 track season progressed, many of the Cinderdogs displayed spirit and vigor in their special areas. Running the 220,440 and 880 were Sam Harris, Tyrone Browne and Steve Johnson. Specializing in the 880, Bill Durbin, Lennie Knudson and Don Jenkins sped past their opponents. Soaring over the hurdles were David Robinson, Bob Parker and Elvin Thomas. Sprinters this year were Sam McCaston, Darryl Payne and Bill King. Discus throwers, Larry Keeble, Greg Griswold, Dave Wessel and Herman Neuman were accompanied by Bill Kerr, Willie Huskey and Jim Dukelow with the javelin and John Hunter, Larry Keeble and Bill Kerr with the shot put.

Assisting the coaches with equipment and records were Dave Cobb, Doug Cobb, Joe Manzcuk and John Manzcuk, managers.

Seniors Help in Gym

Demonstrating techniques, recording grades, helping the teachers and instructing the students were just a few of the many duties assigned to the senior gym instructors.

Selection of the 42 boys and 20 girls was made at the end of their junior year and was based on certain gymnastic abilities and grade averages. As a class in leadership, they received one credit from this course.

Senior instructor, Karen Rohner, explains the fundamentals of tennis to sophomore Kathy Dane.

Working hard to improve her swimming skill, Beverly Walker demonstrates a fundamental stunt in water ballet.

Swim Stunts Shown

Working with high school snychronized swimming for the first time, Mrs. Margaret Welsh, sponsor, helped the Splash Club president, Carol Diehl, plan a water ballet show. "On Broadway" was the theme of the production which was given in April. The more experienced Sharks worked with the Minnows to perfect the different swimming strokes and stunts which were used in their musical routines.

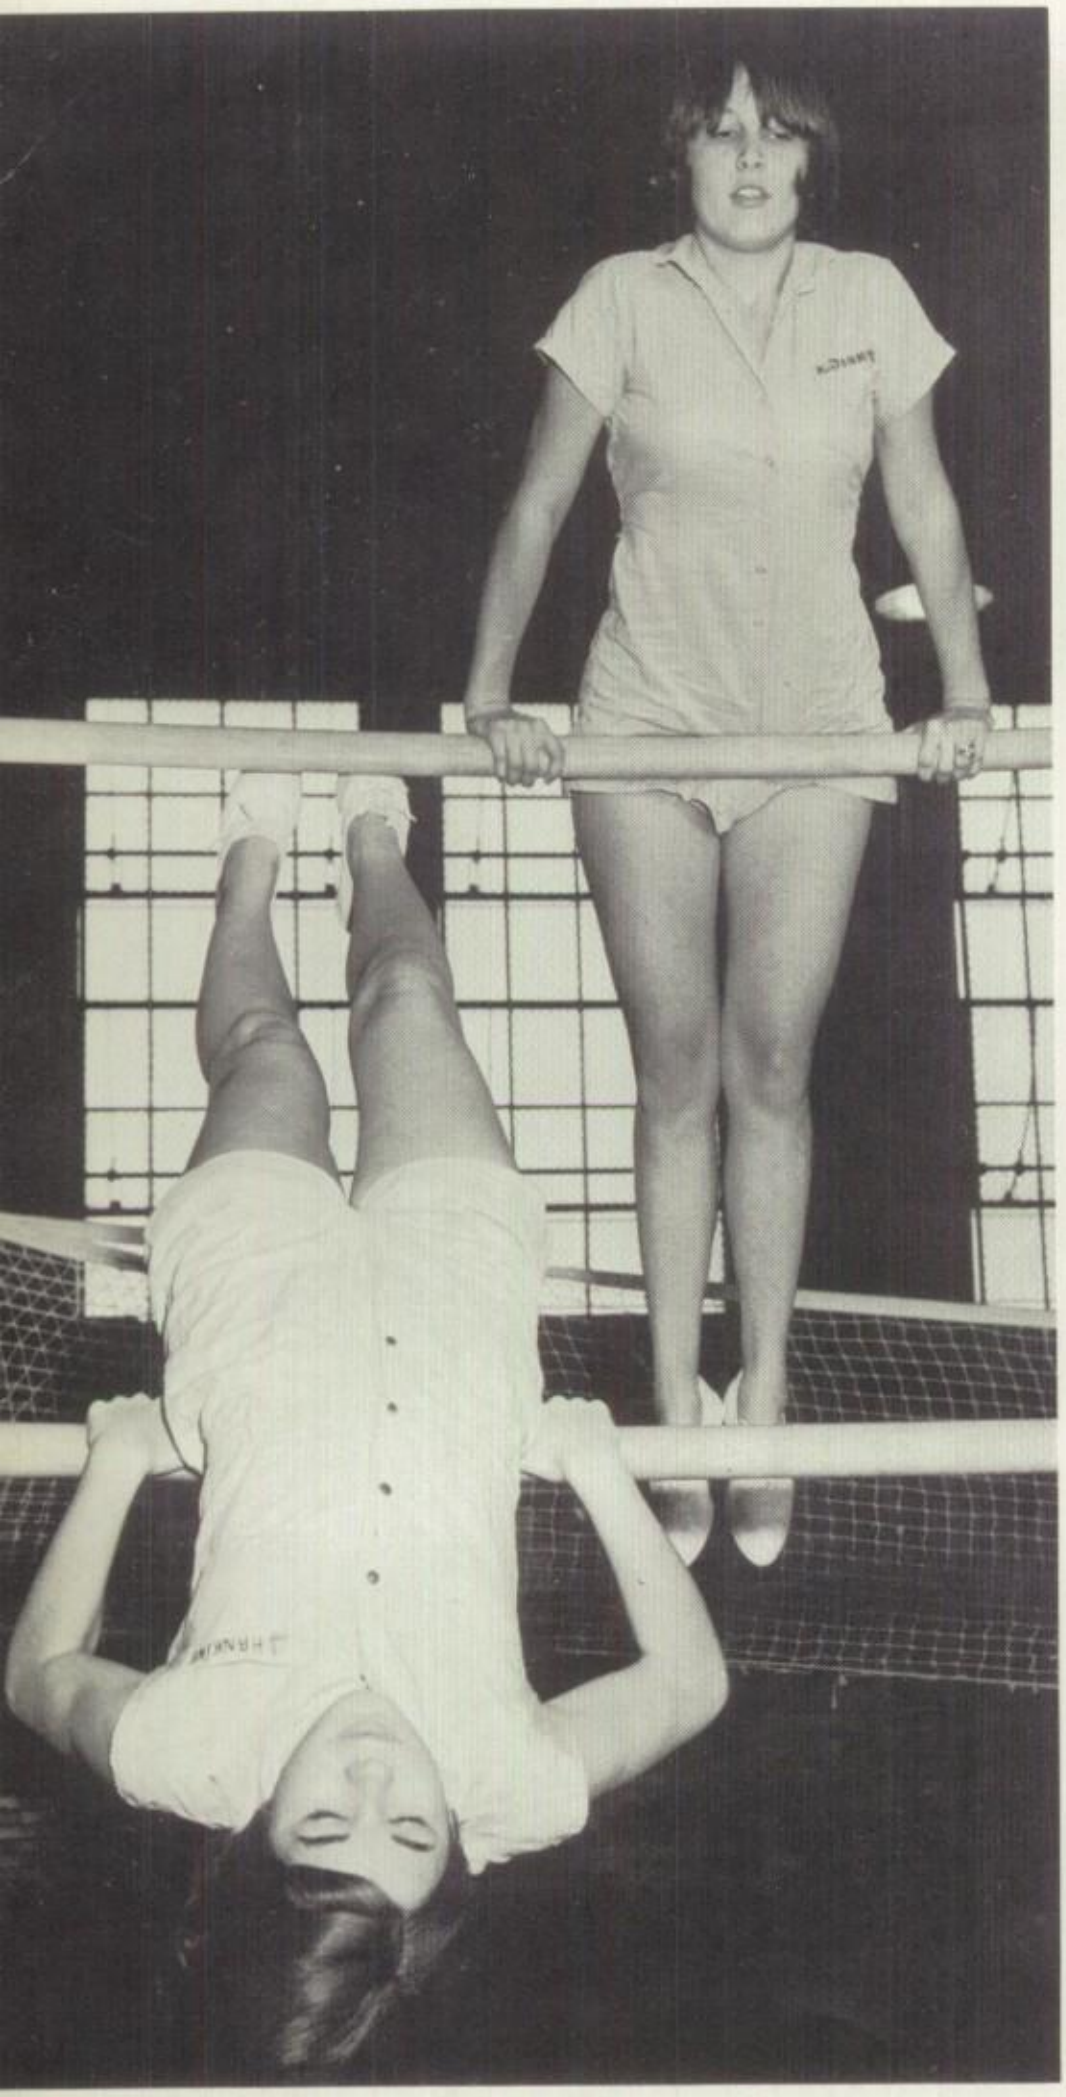
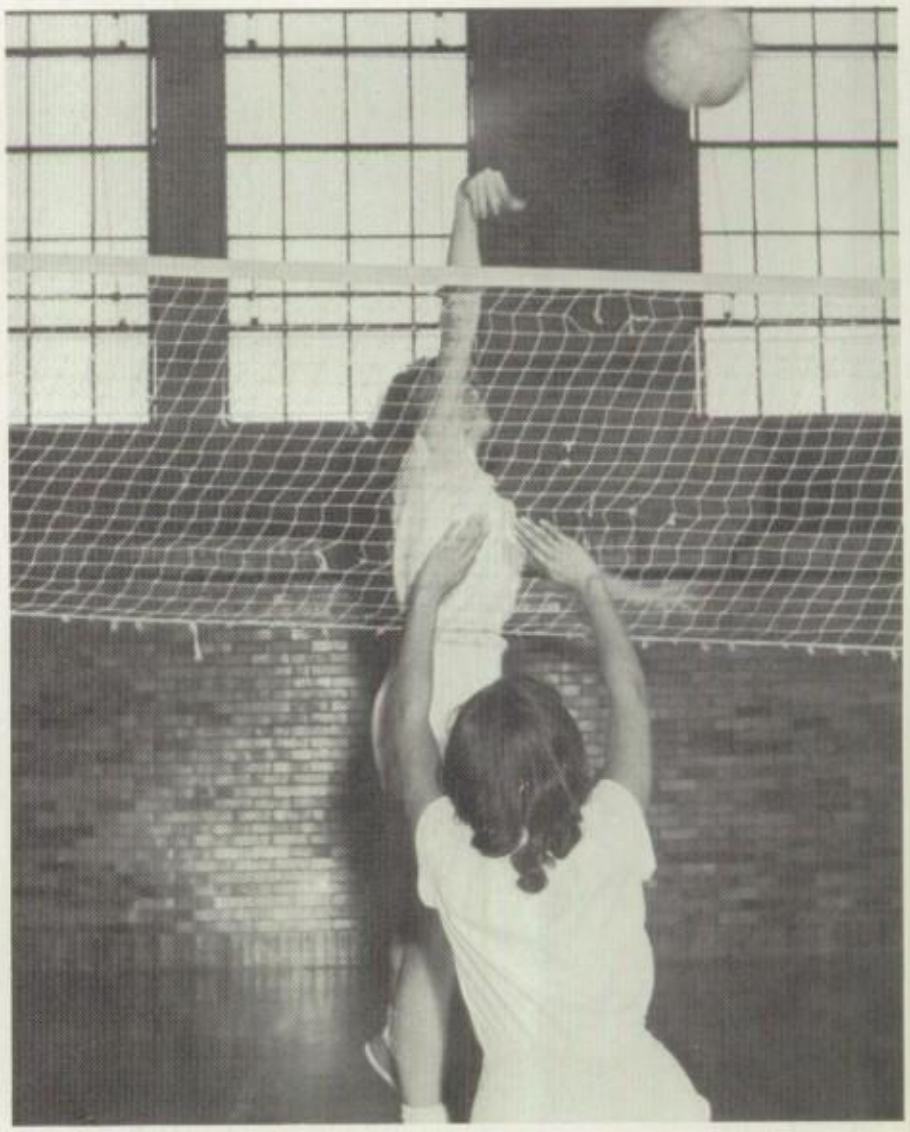
Girls Keep Active as well as Fit



Co-ordination and good judgement contribute to the success of a stunt on the apparatus. Displaying their skills are Janice Hankins and Kendra Johnson.

Winning two trophies, one at Lawrence and one at Washington High School, at the beginning of the year gave the Girls' Intramurals team additional incentive for the rest of the year's activities. Intramurals were open to all girls interested in competing with others of similar ability and in developing better co-ordination and skill. This was the opinion expressed by the three sponsors, Miss Helen Barnett, Mrs. Nancy Allen and Mrs. Margaret Welsh.

In the fall, activities began with tennis and were followed by volleyball, apparatus, badminton, shuffleboard, table tennis and fencing. This wide variety of sports was offered two nights a week. The better players were chosen for traveling teams to compete in Sports Days held at other schools.



To prevent Donna Wells in scoring her final point for a win, Linda Jackson stands ready to return the ball.

No, it is not the Four Musketeers but rather Sheila Modrell, Christina Barber, Linda Doucette and Marie Alvarado engaging in a game of fencing. This art of attack and defense is being taught here for the first time.

Presenting Mrs. Nancy Allen with results of Wyandotte's participation in Sports Days is Charlotte Comley. The trophies were won at Washington and Lawrence.

Dana Madison looks on as her opponent, Kathy Olgivie, aims for 10 more points to increase her score.

Underclassmen

Remember . . .

the awe-struck sophomores on the first day of school, the excitement of the Red-White game, the competition of a paper sale, the shuffling of feet at a class party, the rivalry of class elections, and the responsibilities handed down at the Passing of the Robe Assembly. Reminisce awhile, but look forward to more memories. Underclassmen. . .behold the Towers of Tradition.

Girls League Orients

Just as the school expanded this year through the addition of new equipment, teachers and classrooms, so each student developed emotionally, academically and socially by attending Wyandotte High School.

The annual Girls' League Orientation was held a few days before school started and helped to familiarize sophomore girls with their new classrooms. Confusion diminished as sophomores gained skill at navigating through the halls.

Traditional class activities included the Red-White football game, where the two sophomore squads competed for a victory, with the White team defeating the Red. Also, a papersale was held to finance the class party, which was held later in the year. Testing programs called for extra study as sophomores began taking the first of a series of tests to be used for college admittance and scholarships.

Big Red Initiates 925 Sophomores

"Et tu Brute?" inquires a dying Julius Caesar. This Sophomore English class presented the play as part of their study of Julius Caesar.

Orientation, enrollment and the mystery of a maze of hallways began an active year for the 925 sophomores who attended Wyandotte for their first year. The year was filled with newness from meeting new friends to engaging in new activities, classes and clubs.

Class officers were elected and soon activities were under way. They included a papersale as well as the traditional class party. In addition, assemblies, special projects, sports events, and other class activities provided pleasant deviations from the routine of classroom work. A new atmosphere, as well as new teachers and friends, helped to create an interesting year.

Spirit at Paper Sales

The 786 members of the Junior Class began their year with a record-breaking papersale which netted them $540.16. They, therefore, beat the Senior Class in the traditional project competition and boosted the treasury for the class party.

With half their school days behind them, the Juniors prepared themselves for future college days by taking the PSAT and NMSQT tests. Also, this was the first year that a class honored its president with the presentation of a silver charm. The Sophomore Class of '66 presented the charm to Marilyn Waters.

Among other activities were the Junior-Varsity game and the selection of senior class rings which marked the beginning of next year's task of seniority. After the selection of next year's Student Council officers and cheerleaders, the year drew to a close with the traditional Passing of the Robe Ceremony.

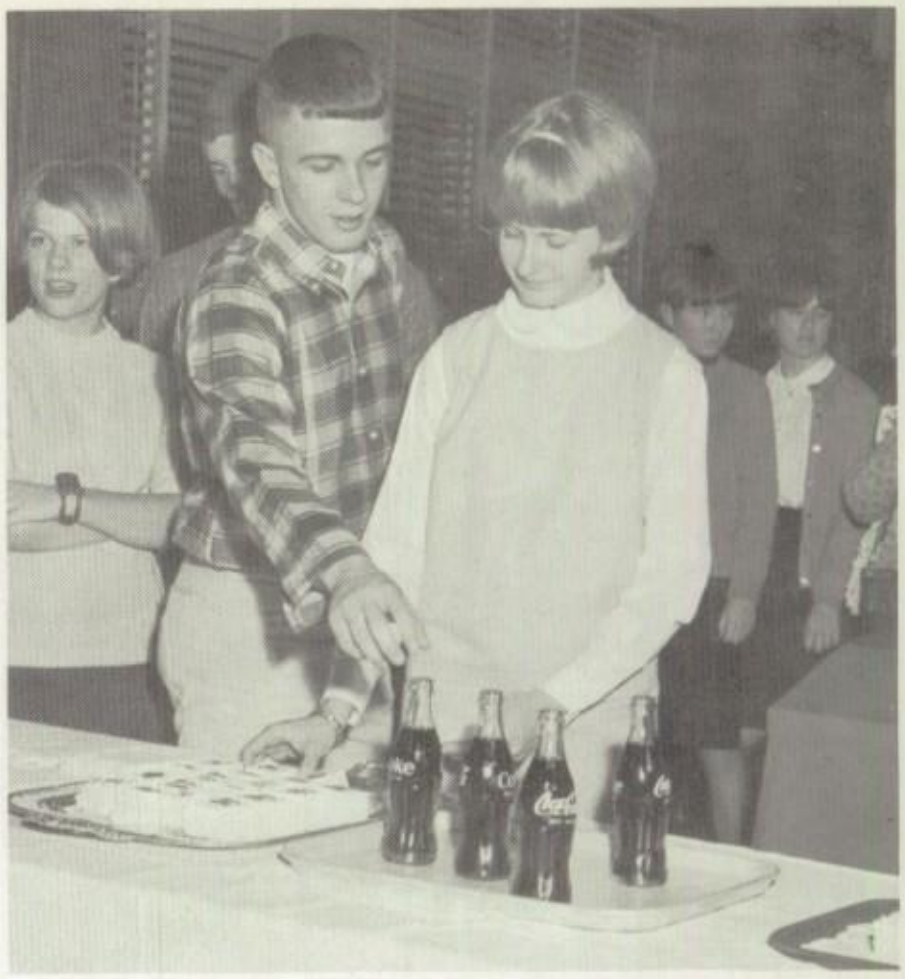
Old Haunts Swing

"Midnight Hour," the Junior party, was held in the Boy's Gym on the evening of January 21. Upon arrival, students found the gym transformed into a haunted graveyard complete with epitaphs of previous class events. Royal blue streamers draped over the dance floor composed a fake ceiling that adorned the gym. Dancing, talking with friends or just listening to the music provided enjoyment for those who attended.

Adding to the ghostly atmosphere was a huge haunted house penetrated by the wild sounds of the Chesmann. At intermission the crowd gathered in the cafeteria where cokes and cake were being served by the teachers and chaperons. The party was planned by homeroom representatives, officers and other interested students of the class under the supervision of sponsor, Mr. Charles Nichols.



Exhausted dancers, Danny Clancy and Carol Roseberry, sample cake and coke being served in the cafeteria.

Seniors

Remember . . .

the frustrating hours spent taking college prep exams, the snap of a shutter for senior pictures, the majestic air of the Senior Prom, the long-awaited Senior Play, the reverence of Baccalaureate, and the feeling of achievement at Commencement. Wyandotte and her memories will forever remain in our hearts. Take one last look. . .behold the Towers of Tradition.

SENIOR OFFICERS: Mr. Kenneth Bingman, sponsor; Pat Collins, secretary; Tim Gabisch, president; Fran Lovitch, recorder; Dave Coons, vice-president; Don Dilley, sgt. at-arms; Bob Brandland, treasurer.

Presiding at a senior representative meeting, Mr. Bingman asks for ideas about the future senior party.

Seniors Set Pace

Interest and enthusiasm stimulated 671 seniors through the year. Senior activity flourished, from raising money at a paper sale to planning the Senior Party. Looking toward the future, seniors applied for scholarships and gained information from college representatives at special assemblies. Demonstrating dramatic talents, seniors presented "The Truant Angel" and demonstrating scholastic abilities, they represented Wyandotte on the TV show "Categories." The traditional passing of the Robe symbolized the exchanging of senior responsibilities to the class of '68. Ending the year with the magnificence of the Senior Prom, the gaiety of the Senior Breakfast and the reverence of Commencement added a final touch to an outstanding year for the Class of 1967.

is also trying for a part in the play, calmly watches as the director looks for acting ability.

Continuing with a traditional event, the 1967 Senior Class chose to demonstrate their dramatic abilities and to increase their treasury funds by presenting a class play. After tryouts in the auditorium, Mr. Knapp, drama instructor, determined the cast of thirteen. Chosen for student director was Pam Bruner and chosen for general chairman was Mildred Everett. Props and costumes soon accumulated and cast members worked to memorize lines as rehearsals became nightly events. "The Truant Angel," a light comedy, was presented on February 22.

Tickets for the play were sold on a competitive basis in senior homerooms. The person in each homeroom who sold the most tickets, had all of his senior dues paid by funds from the play.

Soaring to stardom with Polly's help, Jerry is phoned often by the secretary and casting director for parts.

opening performance of the play. Completely bored, they imitate the actions and trite sayings of the guests.

Reaching a peak of emotion, Lucy relates opposition to Polly and Jerry's marriage as they try to console her.

Senior Play Displays Angelic Theme

Student director, Pam Bruner corrects the cast as Mr. Knapp checks a play book to see that lines are right.

Revolving around an earth-bound angel was the Senior Play, "The Truant Angel." Polly, the guardian angel, came to earth on a special mission. Lucy Gillud, whom she had been assigned to guard, called Polly to help Jerry, an aspiring young actor. With angelic powers, Polly helped Jerry to rise swiftly to stardom, but soon forgot that angels are not supposed to fall in love.

Being highly eccentric, Lucy fought the marriage of Polly and Jerry with each word and action. Angelic qualities were abandoned as Polly enjoyed her earthly life and forgot her role as an angel from heaven. With a visit from Clarissa, another angel, Polly was told to make the choice between heaven and earth. Although it was a hard decision to make, with a tear in her eye, Polly gave up her wings and chose to remain on earth.

HONORARY MEMBER: Eloiza Tiburcio, excha

Before reciting the National Honor Society pledge, the new initiate receives a torch from Mr. Corporon.

With the lighting of each torch from the sacred flame, all new members turn to face the National Honor Society

Alive Sacred Flame

"In all humility, I pledge myself to be honorable, to serve, to lead aright, to uphold scholarship and thus keep alive the sacred flame," was the pledge given by 15 percent of the top fourth of the Senior Class, who had become National Honor Society initiates for 1967. Students who ranked in the upper fourth of the class were eligible for membership and a faculty vote was taken based on scholarship, leadership, service and character.

Traditional in the ceremony was the candle-lighting service and the torchlight recessional. Following the ceremony, NHS members and their parents were invited to Social Hall where a reception was held.

The 1968 Quiverian staff has its first intellectual gathering.

It's that "Old Spring Fever" that has Mrs. Moritz under its spell.

"Wyandotte Forever"

No mention of traditions would be complete without including the alma mater. The words of "Wyandotte Forever" bring back memories of sad defeats and glorious victories in all aspects of sports. However, few students realize that the alma mater was written especially for us by Mr. R. A. Samuelson, former instrumental music instructor. In the fall of 1950, "Wyandotte Forever" was first played at an all school assembly. It met with such enthusiastic approval that it was officially drafted as the school song. This original alma mater was copyrighted in 1961.

Let us pay one final tribute by remembering the words of "Wyandotte Forever."

"Wyandotte forever,
We'll be true to thee.
Your name with all its fame,
Ever dear to me.
Wyandotte forever, we'll be true to thee.
Hail, alma mater, Wyandotte, hail to thee.
Wyandotte, hail to thee."

Editor's Note...

Another year has drawn to a close. Through the 1967 Quiverian, we the staff, have endeavored to crystallize the once wonderful experiences into fond memories.

A new feature of the book was the addition of color pictures which were concentrated in the opening section for the first time. This year, emphasis was placed on the traditions and towers of Wyandotte in order to instill in you, the reader, a better understanding of your school and to etch in your memory its beauty and uniqueness.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those individuals without whose advice and assistance this yearbook could not have been published. Recognition goes to Mr. Olin Wilson, who was responsible for the professional photography, and Mr. W. W. Washam of Walsworth Publishing Company whose advice and suggestions proved extremely helpful.

Personal thanks goes to the staff whose utmost dedication went into producing this book, and to the Cubs who contributed their time to work after school. Finally, in behalf of the entire staff, I would like to express our deep thanks to Miss Niki M. Economy, our sponsor, to whom we are greatly indebted for her interest and invaluable guidance throughout the year.

Darkness marks the end of a day -- the end of a year. It is a sign of parting; a time to bid a final farewell. Many of us will return to this great institution, but many will not. For us seniors, our life at Wyandotte has ended. Throughout the years, we have experienced moods of joy and sadness, absorbed knowledge through academic endeavors, kept alive the traditions and christened a few of our own. Darkness has now fallen on the towers, but their magnitude and beauty will continually shine forth. It is time to say good-bye to this school we have come to love so well. Remember Wyandotte in your thoughts, be proud of what she represents ... behold these Towers of Tradition ... forever.
